Wallace Sees Increase in Cotton Processing Tax

NEW ENGLANDERS PLANNING TO SEEK VOTE OF CENSURE

Georgia Cotton Manufacturers Ask Congressmen To Support Proposal by George To Suspend Levy.

U. T. W. CHALLENGE OF BOARD LOOMS

Bilbo Reveals Plan for Move To Develop Southern Industries Through Government Aid.

By the Associated Press.

As a result of fast moving developments in various quarters yesterday, the cotton textile industry found itself today more disturbed than at any time since the general strike last September.

Within 24 hours after NRA had issued a production curtailment order calculated to avert wholesale closing of cotton mills, Secretary Wallace announced there was probability the cotton processing tax would be increased rather than lowered as textile communities demanded.

New England house members expressed indignation at Wallace's statement and made plans to draw up a statement.

At the same time Georgia cotton manufacturers asked their state congressional delegation to support the proposal of Senator George for suspension of the cotton processing tax and payment of farm benefits out of the $1,500,000,000 works appropriation.

The United Textile Workers issued a statement promising a new challenge of a ruling by the textile relations board which reaffirmed its former findings that two Carolina mills need not re-hire strikers whose strike was unsuccessful.

Possibility of aid for the cotton farmer was seen, however, as Senator Bilbo, of Mississippi, revealed that he has launched a fight to develop southern industries through government assistance. One of his principal plans involves new uses for cotton to consume the surplus.

"UNSUCCESSFUL STRIKE"

RULING AGAIN AFFIRMED

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(AP)—Action of the textile relations board today reaffirmed its former findings that two Carolina mills need not re-hire strikers whose strike was unsuccessful.

The decisions were handed down in discrimination cases brought against the Ninety-Six Cotton Mill, of North Carolina, and the Alexander Manufacturing Company, of Forest City, N. C. Both mills operated at normal capacity during last September's textile walk-out, hiring new employees to fill the places of the strikers.

Original decisions were made January 30 and were rescinded February 20 on appeal of the ITW.

"Here this board decides that workmen are to be rehired," said a representative of the ITW.

'Boldest Thief' Takes 2nd Story of House

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 27.—(UP)—And now comes the story of the boldest of thieves—who stole the upper story of another man's house.

This unusual accusation landed Forest Sentman, 45, a house wrecker by trade, into the workhouse for six months. He was sentenced when Peter J. Yeager, of Freeburg, Ill., was informed someone was moving a floor of his vacant store building here. Yeager came, saw and prosecuted, claiming malicious destruction of property.

But his troubles were not over. The city started action against him today to remove debris left after Sentman's "wrecking" job.

TUGWELL AGENCY MAY SUPERSEDE AAA CROP CONTROL

Billion-Dollar Backed Soil Erosion Project Will Retire Vast Areas From Plow to Grass, Forest.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(AP)—A new organization holding future possibilities for replacing the AAA's present method of crop control was established today at the Department of Agriculture under Rexford G. Tugwell.

The move was a consolidation of federal agencies dealing with soil erosion. Tugwell, undersecretary of agriculture, is expected to direct—through the use of about one billion dollars in public works funds—the administration of the land use program.

Present plans involve the retirement of millions of acres of marginal lands which now contribute to surpluses. Some experts contend this may prove a more effective means of preventing overproduction than the AAA's policy of taxing commodities to raise funds for acreage reduction.

The rise in the cost of living and increasing competition from foreign textiles have increased opposition to the AAA program and the land retirement may eventually provide a substitute.

Officials said, however, there was no thought of any immediate change in crop control plans and that Tugwell's program was too far in the future to affect current adjustment projects.

Secretary Wallace ordered the consolidation of the agencies dealing with erosion, a pressing problem just now because of dust storms in the west.

The soil erosion service recently was transferred from the Interior to the Agriculture Department and officials said other agencies dealing with the problem will be changed.

WARTIME PROFITS ARE HIT BY BARUCH IN SENATE HEARING

Noted New York Financier Declares He Sold All Holdings Before Entering Government Service.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(AP)—Expecting an argument, a surprised senate munitions committee today heard Bernard Baruch, white-haired master of finance, graciously agree in the main with the committee's pet theories for taking the profits out of war.

At the outset, Baruch apparently forewarned a stormy session by sternly demanding that he be cleared of "intendments" or else "proved guilty" of violating his trust as chairman of the War Industries Board under Woodrow Wilson.

His eyes sparkling, he insisted that a false impression had been created by earlier testimony before the committee that some of his wartime tax reports were missing from the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Baruch, a target for both Huey Long and Father Coughlin, gave his version of the missing papers and then the conference settled down into an amiable session that at times had the intimacy of fireside chat.

Tells of Affairs. At one point he told of his own financial affairs, saying that he sold all holdings from which a profit would arise directly to the war before entering government service. His income, he added, was at that time drastically reduced.

The committee, or most of its members, expressed opposition to Baruch's ideas, calling for a "ceiling" on prices at the outbreak of war. In turn they looked for him to disagree with their program for taking virtually all wartime profits through drastic taxation.

Baruch beamed and said that his reaction was "generally favorable" and that the plan, drawn by John T. Flynn, New York economist, contained "views similar to those I have hitherto supported."

More than that, he stoutly urged the committee to go forward with its plan to eliminate war profits and offered his help in carrying out the program.

Ready to Help. "The American people should demand it," Baruch declared. "This is the time when the American public is aroused. I'll pull with you if you want me. If you don't want me, that is another matter."

The financier dealt only briefly

HOUSE APPROVES NAVAL MEASURES

Three Bills, Designed To Strengthen Defenses, Are Passed.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(AP)—With scarcely a ripple, the house today swept to passage three measures to strengthen naval defense against, ashore and in the air.

The loudly approved trio of bills would:

Authorize the navy to proceed with a $38,000,000 program of building up strategic naval bases in the Pacific. Provide a thousand extra officers for fighting ships.

Assure the navy enough aviators for an expanded air fleet. The bills, which house leaders said constituted the most significant naval legislation since the war, were handed over to the senate, carrying the blessing of the administration.

They were designed to meet the necessities of a fleet now on the way toward the maximum power allowed by international arms pacts.

"It is highly essential from a national defense standpoint that this legislation go through," Chairman Vinson, democrat, Georgia, of the naval committee, told the house.

Rut from Representative Marcantonio, republican, New York, came an assertion that the measure was "an naval bases meant the nation is 'deliberately waving a war flag on the Pacific coast and I believe that is highly dangerous."

He objected to passing a $38,000,000 authorization with "fewer than 35 members on the floor."

If we are going to fight, tell us what it is," suggested Representative Hull, progressive, Wisconsin. "Let's see the money for fighting, not to build up million-dollar dormitories."

Duke and Duchess of Kent Join Islands' Governor in Greeting President As He Boards Nourmahal for Fishing Cruise.

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON. The Farragut and Nourmahal expect to proceed southward this afternoon. Claxton returning to Miami. Beautiful weather. Smooth sea.

The Farragut will trail the Nourmahal on the fishing trip, which is expected to continue for a week or two.

Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, who will have a big hand in the administration of the impending $4,800,000,000 work relief program, was at the temporary White House headquarters in Miami with McIntyre and in communication with the president.

It was understood that aboard the Nourmahal with the president and Astor were members of the party who accompanied Mr. Roosevelt on similar cruises in the last two years.

This group included Judge J. Fred Keroch, of New York; Kermit Roosevelt, son of President Theodore Roosevelt; George S. George and Lytle Hull, of Tuxedo, N. Y., and Dr. Leslie Heiter, of Mobile, Ala.

He planned to leave San Juan tomorrow on a plane scheduled to arrive here at 5 p. m. He will likely remain overnight in Miami, and fly out to the Nourmahal on the naval mail plane Friday morning.

GOVERNMENT READY. Lawrence Camp, United States district attorney, stated the government was ready for trial of the case against Lee at any time and that it would proceed as soon as they are apprehended. He said, however, the case probably would require at least a month for trial and did not believe it could be reached before June 1.

Judge Underwood Wednesday afternoon set 10 o'clock Friday morning for hearing of a plea for reduction of bond for Lee, Clint Hager, Lee's attorney, filed the petition. Lee's bond is now $20,000, the additional $10,000 set on a warrant issued last Saturday, having been voided Wednesday. The $20,000 bond was set on the jury indictments returned Tuesday.

The Wednesday indictments set forth in detail methods of operation followed by Bradley, Lee and others in the alleged fraud and include copies and photostats of letters written to the jury.

36 VICTORY SEEN FOR F. D. R. PARTY

Campaign Chief Surveys Districts and Finds Only "a Little Trouble."

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(AP)—A Roosevelt victory in 1936 was predicted today by Representative Drewry, of Virginia, chairman of the democratic congressional campaign committee, despite renewed republican activity and third-party threats.

Drewry, who succeeded Speaker Byrnes as head of the campaign committee, not only forecast the re-election of the president but the return of an "overwhelmingly" democratic congress next year.

Although one or more third-party tickets in 1936 remained a distinct possibility, one prospective candidate, Dr. F. E. Townsend, of old-age pension fame, eliminated himself today.

Replying to reports that he might head a ticket with Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, as his running mate, Townsend said he would not run for president "under any circumstances" as "I am not fitted for it mentally or physically."

Borah, who once declined to run for vice president on a ticket headed by Calvin Coolidge, didn't trouble to reply to the report.

Reports Are Good. A journey by Herbert Hoover to New York next week, and the plans of midwestern republicans to meet in Kansas City in May shared the interest of those in the capital who are following G. O. P. plans to reverse the 1932 result.

Mr. Hoover's visit was described as a "business trip" but it was said he undoubtedly would find time to consult with party leaders in the east. His friends and enemies too were wondering whether the result might be another blast against the New Deal similar to that which recently stirred nationwide discussion.

Drewry said he based his predictions on a canvass he has made of political situations in the 222 districts now represented by democrats in the house.

Offer To Head NRA Is Denied by Wood. WASHINGTON, March 27.—(AP)—Robert E. Wood, president of Sears, Roebuck & Company, in a telegram placed before the senate finance committee today said he had not been offered the post of NRA administrator and would not have accepted if he had been.

Wood sent his telegram to Senator Connally, democrat, Texas, who earlier in the inquiry had criticized the suggestion that Wood should head the NRA.

"I wish to say," Wood telegraphed, "that no such appointment has been tendered to me, but that if it had, I could not have accepted. I do not think that I would have been the right man for the position and I believe that the small merchants, who wrote to me, would have been justified in criticizing such an appointment."

21 NEW CHARGES FACE 3 OFFICIALS OF BOND COMPANY

Bradley, Lee, Ingram Indicted Again by Federal Jury; Accused Secretary Object of Search.

New indictments naming B. R. Bradley, fugitive president of the American Bond & Share and affiliated corporations; Robert Lee, counsel, now in the DeKalb county jail; and John C. Ingram, secretary-treasurer, on 21 counts of use of the mails to defraud and conspiracy to violate the national securities act, were returned by the federal grand jury Wednesday.

These followed other indictments returned Tuesday, which name the same three defendants as well as the four corporations, on the same charges. Judge E. Marvin Underwood set bond for each of the three men named at $20,000.

Wednesday night it was said by officers that Ingram apparently had left Atlanta. He is sought under the indictments returned Tuesday. He could not be found Wednesday and is believed, like Bradley, to have left for an unannounced destination.

The federal grand jury adjourned Wednesday to April 15, at which time it will resume its investigation of the corporations whose crash left hundreds of Atlanta and Georgia investors facing probable total loss of their money.

Government Ready. Lawrence Camp, United States district attorney, stated the government was ready for trial of the case against Lee at any time and that it would proceed as soon as they are apprehended. He said, however, the case probably would require at least a month for trial and did not believe it could be reached before June 1.

Gang Chiefs' Mothers Are Released in Texas

DALLAS, Texas, March 27.—(AP)—Three mothers who befriended two of the southwest's most ruthless marauders, Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker, were freed today.

They finished 30-day federal sentences for harboring Clyde and Bonnie while the machine-gunning duo fled the law.

LAND EXPANSION, LARGE AIR CORPS IN NAZI DEMANDS

Economic Union With Austria and Return of Czech Territory Sought by Chancellor.

LONDON, March 27.—(AP)—Sir John Simon came back to London today to tell the British cabinet just what Adolf Hitler wants to join any European security system.

The ministers were called into special session to receive the foreign secretary's quick report on the results of his conversations Monday and Tuesday with Germany's strong-willed chancellor.

While no official version of the results of Simon's mission was forthcoming, authoritative sources said before the cabinet met that the chancellor's demands included these:

1. Economic union with Austria.

2. Return of certain Czechoslovak territory and repatriation of 3,500,000 German residents in it.

3. Air force the equal of the British or the French, the common level to be determined by Russia's air strength.

4. A navy of about 400,000 tons.

An earlier list given out by the German press also included Hitler's reported demand for return of Pomerania, the "Polish Corridor"—but this, the most sensational report yet to reach London, was corrected immediately after Simon's return from the German capital.

The reichswehr, it was explained, merely discussed future possibilities regarding German territorial desires along the eastern frontier, without making and specific demand in that connection.

Envoys Differ. Hardly had the hum of his airplane's motors died away before the foreign secretary was hurrying to the cabinet session to deliver his preliminary report.

For 40 minutes the ministers listened while he presumably expounded the German terms which he granted the full and unfettered equality, and later in the day Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald visited Buckingham palace to be closeted with King George in the monarch's private apartment for half an hour.

It was believed the fast-moving developments in the German capital.

BERLIN, March 27.—(UP)—Immediate intervention by the powers to prevent Lithuania from executing four Memel men on charges of high treason was demanded tonight by hundreds of thousands of irate Germans in a series of public mass demonstrations from one end of the reich to the other.

Reichsführer Adolf Hitler was cheered in one demonstration outside his chancellery by a mob of frenzied men and women shouting: "Down with Lithuania!" He solemnly waved a hand in acknowledgment as he gazed down on the violent scene from a window.

More than 100,000 persons demonstrated in the famous Lustgarten in the heart of Berlin, while thousands sought to storm the Lithuanian legation in the capital. Steel-helmeted police reinforcements held them back.

Speakers denounced Lithuanian rule over Memel, an autonomous territory to Germany, and the death sentences at a mass court-martial in Kovno yesterday against nazis charged with fomenting an armed uprising against Lithuania.

Other Demonstrations. The Lustgarten demonstration was but one of a series throughout the reich. At Koenigsberg, in East Prussia, a crowd of 15,000 held a violent anti-Lithuanian demonstration in the Schlagerhall, demanding intervention. A protest was sent to the guardian powers—France, Italy, Britain and Japan—demanding protection of the German minorities in the Memel territory.

At Munich, the local Lithuanian consul-general, Herr Odendahl, a German citizen, resigned in protest against the sentences. He removed the Lithuanian insignia from his residence.

Huge protest meetings were held in Munich, Stuttgart, Frankfurt and Karlsruhe. Others were held in Cologne, Bonn and Breslau.

In Berlin, at the Lustgarten demonstration a telegram was read for Hitler protesting the Kovno verdict.

Dawes' Loan Fraud Is Charged to RFC

CHICAGO, March 27.—(AP)—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation was charged in a bill filed in federal district court late today with countenancing "illegal practices, manipulations and suggestions" by the RFC in part of Charles G. Dawes and other directors of the old Central Republic Trust Company.

The allegations were contained in a counter action filed in behalf of several stockholders who are defendants in a suit recently instituted by the RFC to collect about $30,000,000 unpaid on an $80,000,000 RFC loan granted the old Dawes bank.

The bill alleged that the RFC acted "in concert" with Dawes, former vice president of the United States, and his co-directors, and the Central Republic in diverting assets of the institution to the recently organized City National Bank and Trust Company.

RUSSELL OBTAINS AID FOR PINE PULP

Senate Committee Agrees To Hike Fund for Forestry Survey to $250,000.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS. WASHINGTON, March 27.—With a view of aiding plans for the development of a great new pulp industry in the south, the senate appropriations committee today adopted an amendment by Senator Richard B. Russell Jr. increasing the fund for the United States Department of Agriculture for continuing its survey of national forest resources during the coming fiscal year.

The amendment, which was attached to the Agricultural Department annual supply bill, increased from $120,000 to $250,000 the fund to be used for this purpose. Senator Russell, a member of the appropriations committee, had the active co-operation of Senator Elmer Thomas, of Oklahoma, and Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, in sponsoring the amendment.

In urging the increase, the junior Georgia senator laid before the committee a memorandum from E. K. Gaylord, of Oklahoma City, publisher of the Daily Oklahoman and president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association, emphasizing the importance of government forestry survey work in connection with the projected southern newspaper industry.

He pointed out the importance of providing official government information on the timber resources of the south available for newspaper and pulp production under the formula developed by Dr. Charles Herty, noted chemist, of Savannah.

Telling of the progress of the southern publishers for encouraging development of newspaper mills to supplant extensive pine coming into the American market from Canada and abroad, Mr. Gaylord said:

"The Agriculture Department supply bill now carries a proposal of $120,000 for continuation of the national forest survey which has been under way since 1929. The original act under which the survey was begun fixed the authorized limit of annual appropriations at $250,000. The Southern Newspaper Association, with membership of the 214 largest papers in the south, requests the authorized limit of $250,000 be appropriated for the work in the next fiscal year for reasons which include the following:

"Within the last two years a potential new industry which might to the south has been developed by perfection of processes of manufacturing newspaper from southern pine. The possibilities here have been proven to the extent that a number of southern papers have secured the construction of a large mill and contracted to take its entire output and within a short time will be using no newspaper from any source but the southern pine.

"This would keep within the United States hundreds of millions of dollars now spent annually for newspaper in foreign countries, particularly Canada, Scandinavia and Russia. At the same time it would provide a cash return on much southern land now practically without value since trees (pine) large enough to make newspaper may be cut every 20 years; it would employ thousands of southern men in cutting and replanting trees and in the mills; it would bring home United States capital which has gone abroad to find and develop secure supplies of newspaper; it would give United States papers cheaper prices on newspaper than they now must pay for the imported product and free them from the dangers to their supply inherent in the fact that foreigners now actually are in the position of threatening the freedom of our press by price fixing, imposition of quotas, etc.

Nation's Benefit.

"Moreover, if development of a domestic newspaper industry should bring a new prosperity to the south and directly be of value to all the newspapers of the country, the entire nation and every industry in every part of it would be benefited.

"One of the elements most important to this development, however, is accurate knowledge of southern timber resources. With five varieties of pine known already to be suitable for newspaper, it becomes necessary almost immediately to know accurately the extent and distribution of their growth.

"This is just exactly the sort of information to be brought out by the national forest survey.

"The survey has been lagging because of insufficient appropriations for several years and the southern publishers association urges that it now be speeded up with the additional funds requested, to the end that it may be completed as soon as possible and the information be available upon which to push development of this new domestic industry with its vast potentialities of benefit to the entire nation."

2,148 Georgia College Students Aided by FERA During January

The Federal Relief Administration gave assistance to 2,148 college students in Georgia during January at a cost of $27,000. It was shown Wednesday in the monthly review of relief activities.

Employment in socially useful projects in and around the colleges was given the students, such as renovating library books, work in mailing rooms and other jobs that did not replace youths ordinarily given work and pay by the colleges themselves. Those aided received an average of $12.58 during the month.

The review released by Miss Gay B. Shepperson, state relief administrator, showed the state received $2,829,125 in federal grants in January. Of this sum $1,688,976 went to the general and educational programs, $508,275 for the rural rehabilitation program and $2,567.75 for the transient program.

In the rural rehabilitation program, latest figure show 14,831 cases submitted of which 11,609 have been approved, 2,935 suspended and 287 cases disapproved. From April 1, 1934, until January 31, 1935, the FERA advanced $804,463 to rural rehabilitation clients. It spent $312,129 in land purchases for the program and $350,201 for administrative and other expense.

Land Is Allotted.

Those approved for rural rehabilitation are allotted a tract of land, the amount varying with the condition of the land. They are supplied with necessary livestock and farming implements. A budget is arranged designating the amounts that should be spent and the type of farming for which the land is best suited. The budget is so arranged that the client may repay the loan without suffering financial hardship. Until he gets "on his feet," the program supplies him with direct relief. Repayments may be made in cash, kind or work.

In carrying out the program 528,727 acres of land were rented during the period. The value of the total annual rental was placed at $539,943. Of this amount $223,905 was cash rental. The remainder was taken care of as follows: Contracts for repairs, $89,394; share crops and cotton, $140,385; payment of taxes, $10,199.

Plans are under way for setting up organized rural communities in Bibb, Grady, Harris, Irwin, Polk and Putnam counties. These communities will consist of groups of connecting farms and modern farm homes will be constructed.

Money Being Repaid.

Repayments by those receiving rural rehabilitation aid have amounted to $166,491. Of this amount $162,780 was paid in work; $1,933 in kind and $1,777 in cash.

In aiding college students, the FERA gave employment to 1,198 male students and 950 female students. Figures on the schools included the following: Agnes Scott College, Decatur, 32 students; Berry schools, Rome, 60; Emory University, 130; Georgia Normal and Agricultural College, 56; Georgia State College for Women, 163; Georgia State Woman's College, 62; Georgia School of Technology, 241; Mercer University, 45; Oglethorpe University, 37; South

Georgia Teachers' College, 57; University of Georgia, 332; and Wesleyan College, 27.

The administration has 22 airports, either under construction or completed and three additional contemplated airport projects. Expenditures on these amounted to $264,017. There were 121 projects for construction, repair and maintenance of public buildings during the nine months ending December, 1934.

STATUE OF LONG, 'FOUNDER' OF CITY, OFFERED ATLANTA

A statuette of Stephen Harriman Long, engineer of the old Western & Atlantic railroad, who "spotted" the site which in 1845 became Atlanta while making a survey for the state road in 1837, will be offered to the city of Atlanta as one of the art projects of the FERA, it was announced Wednesday.

Wilbur G. Kurtz, Georgia historian and chairman of the city planning commission, Wednesday offered the work, done by Steffen Thomas, to the city through Mayor Key.

The mayor will present the matter officially to council Monday and if accepted it is planned to place the work in the corridor of the new city hall.

Kurtz, along with J. J. Haverly, is art projects adviser of the Georgia Emergency Relief Administration, a branch of the FERA. Kurtz said the statuette is designed to pay honor to the man who named and founded this city.

He also pointed out that it is especially appropriate because of the fact that Atlanta observes its centennial in 1937, only two years from now.

ARMY DAY PROGRAM AT POST INCLUDES REVIEW, CONCERT

Uncle Sam's soldiers out at Fort McPherson are polishing up for special observance Saturday, April 6, of Army Day, in accordance with orders issued Wednesday by General R. O. Van Horn, post commander.

During the morning, the crack 22d infantry will stage a formal guard mount which will be witnessed by the post officers and visitors, which will be followed by a concert of patriotic airs by the regiment's band.

The Governor's Horse Guard polo team will invade the reservation in the afternoon to face the Fort McPherson polo team on the field at the post.

Visitors will be availed a chance to see how the army lives as during the day the public will visit the barracks and kitchen of Company A. The camp of the CCC supply company will also be thrown open to public inspection to show how President Roosevelt's reforestation army is aligning itself with military discipline and life.

REPEAL VOTE RULING MADE BY YEOMANS

Attorney-General Says Those Eligible in Last Election May Cast Ballots.

Attorney-General Yeomans Wednesday made public a letter in reply to questions as to who can vote in the May 15 referendum. He held that only those voters qualified to vote in the general election of November, 1934, are eligible to vote in the prohibition repeal, beer legalization and wine legalization referenda May 15. The ruling follows:

"The general assembly at its recent session passed three acts, each calling for a state-wide referendum as follows:

"1. An act to repeal the present prohibition laws and to legalize the manufacture and sale of liquor on a local county-option basis.

"2. An act to legalize the manufacture and sale of malt beverages.

"3. An act to legalize the manufacture and sale of domestic wines.

"The qualification of voters is identical in each act and is as follows:

"A special election is hereby called to be held in every county of this state on Wednesday, May 15, 1935, under the same rules and regulations as apply to elections for members of the general assembly. The voters list used in such election shall be the registered voters list used in the last general election. At such special election there shall be submitted to the registered and qualified voters of this state qualified to vote at the last general election, the ratification or rejection of this act."

"Only those whose names were on the list of qualified registered voters at the last general election can vote in the special elections. No one who has registered since May 5, 1934, or registers now, can vote in the election of May 15, 1935."

LINDER SEEKS FUNDS FOR TOBACCO GROWERS

Commissioner Says Big Amount Due Georgia Farmers on 1934 Crop.

By the Associated Press. Tom Linder, commissioner of agriculture, said Wednesday Georgia tobacco farmers had between $700,000 and $1,000,000 coming to them from the federal government for 1934 crop sales.

Intervening in behalf of the farmers, Linder wrote a letter recently to Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture in Washington, urging immediate payment of this sum to help the growers during the planting season.

"Georgia farmers need this money to plant crops this season," Linder said.

In his letter to Wallace, he said this:

"I understand there is due the tobacco growers of this state a payment of 12 1-2 per cent on their sales for the 1934 crop."

"I understand this 12 1-2 per cent is due and payable immediately. There are many farmers in Georgia who are absolutely without funds with which to buy fertilizer and seeds for early planting."

"The time for planting some crops, especially in south Georgia, is now on us and the farmer must either plant or fail to make a crop this year."

Linder said Georgia farmers were promised this payment last year after the price of tobacco had been raised, following the Georgia crop season. The tobacco season in Georgia is earlier than that in South Carolina.

"When the South Carolina market opened Georgia crops had been sold," Linder said. "The government raised the price of tobacco, and in order to equalize prices promised 12 1-2 per cent of the 1934 Georgia sales to our tobacco growers."

Land were scheduled for transfer to Wallace's department.

Retirement Needed.

Various proposals have been made to check the swirl of dust that has followed strong winds in the west this spring and definite action may be taken within the next few days. Governor Landon, of Kansas, has recommended that tractors be used to throw up dirt barriers in fields that are being denuded.

Tugwell and Wallace both have expressed the belief that the soundest approach to agriculture's problem was through an intelligent use of land and this involves the retirement of vast areas from the plow and its return to grass or forest.

Such land may be used for parks, timber production, wild life refuges and grazing areas in order to insure its permanent use on a useful basis.

The drought in the midwest, a factor in the dust storms, already has caused a change in the wheat program to allow increased plantings, and in the corn-hog program to permit planting of other crops than corn on land retired from production.

Rising Prices Feared.

AAA officials fear their organization will get most of the blame for rising food costs in the event there is another drought. Criticism has increased lately as food prices have gone up.

Officials of the new soil erosion service in reviewing the job ahead of them, said that more than 50,000,000 acres of land have been destroyed for crop production by erosion, another 325,000,000 acres now in crops have lost all or most of their top soil, and about 100,000,000 acres are rapidly approaching that condition.

Approximately 25 per cent of all farm land used for clean-fertilized crops is subject to erosion which results in an annual damage estimated at more than $400,000,000, they said.

Under the broad plan of the soil erosion service, projects now being carried on to demonstrate erosion prevention by the building of dams, planting of cover crops, and improved methods of cultivation will be continued as before. The additional funds to come from the new relief bill, however, will permit their expansion.

with his own plan to fix the "ceiling" for prices in the event of war.

"It could be fixed per cent of the day war was declared," Baruch told Senate for Clark, democrat, Missouri, "or of some prior date."

In reply to Clark, he said he thought his price-fixing idea was constitutional and "decision of the courts are all along that line."

Baruch testified that some of his income tax returns had been destroyed by the bureau for space reasons. He presented the committee data on his taxes from returns which he said were kept by the bureau and would have been available to the committee on request.

He was asked by Senator George, democrat, Georgia, about the du Pont powder contract, a deal between the War Department and the munitions firm which the committee has cited, by inference at least, of an example of industry's refusal to co-operate without guarantee of profits.

"When it was brought to my attention," he said, "I said it should be canceled. I don't think the du Ponts knew what was going on. They had a hard man running the company."

Powder Needed.

"When I objected to the contract they (the War Department) told me they had to have the powder—that the Germans were almost in Pittsburgh. But they made some other agreement—I don't know just what it was."

Directly facing the committee, he read into the record a statement of his own wealth at the time of the war.

The amount in bonds was about $8,500,000, exclusive of the three investments which I will mention later, and which were worth perhaps $1,300,000 additionally. Further, I probably had some cash balances, the size of which I cannot recall."

He presented Treasury Department reports showing that in 1916 he paid taxes of $261,190 on an income of $2,301,028, and in 1917 a tax of $263,762 on net income of $617,061.

"I was called into the government service in 1917," he said, "I thereupon arranged to dispose, even at a loss, when necessity arose, of all those securities affected by the war. I also sold my seat on the New York Stock Exchange, severing myself from all active business."

"Never from the moment I was called to the government service did I have a dollar's worth of interest in any concern manufacturing munitions of war."

velopments in the arms situation were laid before the British ruler.

The cabinet, it was understood, will receive another report from Sir John, this fuller and more formal. It was described as believing the trip to Berlin well worth while and personal contact with the outspoken German leader entirely justified.

Meanwhile, dispatches from Berlin, expressed the opinion that Downing Street apparently had been out of touch with Simon and Captain Anthony Eden, the other British conferees who are now en route to Moscow, that being the explanation of the misunderstanding concerning Hitler's statement.

In the absence of an official statement which Simon is expected to make to the house of commons tomorrow, rumors current in London even included one to the effect that Simon and Eden have different understandings of what Hitler said.

Stress Meets Stress.

Diplomatic quarters here expressed the opinion that the forthcoming Anglo-French conference at Stresa, Italy, has become of far greater importance with the revelation of the full import of Hitler's demands.

An armed ring around the reich is certain to be considered at the tri-power parley, these sources said, and Great Britain is expected to have considerable difficulty in carrying out her previously expressed intention to keep aloof from such an alliance.

France and Italy are bound to reject the German demands, the diplomats asserted, so that Great Britain will find herself at the crossroads—forced to decide whether to join the former allies and whatever other countries the ring or remain independent, clinging to the role of umpire in the hope of preventing any events which might lead to war.

There was little effort in British quarters to hide the seriousness with which they regard the outlook for the future security of Europe, but British officials refused to comment.

FRANCE EXPECTS SRESA

TO ENCHAIN GERMANY

PARIS, March 27.—(AP)—A clear-cut picture of a rearméd reich, eager to build herself into Europe's most powerful state, emerged from the Anglo-French conversations at Berlin, official French quarters said tonight.

Germany's ambitions, these circles said, make more necessary than ever strengthening of co-operation, among France, England and Italy.

For that reason the French are looking to the tri-power conference at Stresa, Italy, April 11 as offering an opportunity to encircle Germany with pacts.

The French officials said they hoped the British were now convinced, after their interviews with Adolf Hitler and his aides, that little could be accomplished through direct negotiations with the nazis and that the old allies must join hands again to oppose her.

If Germany really wants an army as big as that of Russia, they declared, she would be infinitely stronger than France.

Germany's insistence that she feared Russia is described here as an effort to drive a wedge between France and England and between France and Russia.

The French have no desire to frighten off England by too close an alliance with the soviet, it was said, but at the same time they want to keep their relations with Russia as close as possible since peace in the east is just as important to France as peace in the west.

G. M. Fleet Sales Executive
Pays Visit to Atlanta Office

C. E. Conkin (left), southern district representative, with C. E. Dawson, president of the General Motors Fleet Sales Corporation, who was here yesterday as the guest of Mr. Conkin.

C. E. Dawson, president of the General Motors Fleet Sales Corporation, who has traveled over every section of the country in the past few months, brings a very optimistic view of business conditions generally throughout the entire country. He said that in spite of what some people say, he finds this business is going ahead by leaps and bounds, which view is reflected in the sales figures he gave out while visiting Atlanta Wednesday.

His particular organization has the responsibility of contacting every fleet user of cars in America, and according to him, the company since 1929 has more than doubled the sales of General Motors units through their direct contacts and endeavors to fill the clients' particular needs.

Mr. Dawson was very enthusiastic over conditions he has found throughout the southern territory. While the country as a whole is showing over 20 per cent increase in fleet owner sales, the southern territory shows over 30 per cent.

high cards in the other, that is duplication, on more mature consideration I am now convinced that two hearts, (a one-round forcing bid to which my partner must respond) would have enabled me to proceed more surely, since I would then know whether he could support hearts and whether her spade suit was strong enough to rebid.

However, I bid four diamonds and Mrs. Sims, always a fine gambler, took advantage of the situation to bid five clubs. This Mrs. Culbertson doubled, which in view of her comparatively weak spade suit, I believe was correct. Mrs. Sims passed and now knowing that my partner would lead diamonds and hoping that she was short in hearts (which would have meant a very big set indeed), I passed.

Sims Set Only Two.

Where we fell down in the play losing that vital third trick and setting Mr. Sims only two. My wife led a low diamond, Sims followed from the dummy and I trumped it with the 4 of clubs.

On Page 493, in my red book on leads and plays, I established a principle that when trumping a suit you should trump with your lowest trump card if you hold but two trumps. But if you hold three or more trumps you should trump with the middle of your three or four-card trump suit.

Believe it or not, I had forgotten which is which, it would have been humiliating to my author's pride to ask Mr. Sims' permission to consult my own book, so willy-nilly, I made a wild stab, injuring my partner. As usual, her patience was angelic: "This is the only real error you made today. It may be the only one, but it is a big one for the worthy founder of the Culbertson theory of leads and plays," was all she said.

old Nazi battle cry: "Germany awake! Judah perish!" resounded in the capital's streets.

The government, spurred by the wave of anger sweeping the nation, is contemplating urgent steps to prevent the execution of the four men, sentenced at Korne yesterday in a mass court-martial of 122 Germans charged with participating in a plot to separate the Memel district from Lithuania and control, as Germany under the League of Nations.

Regarding the Anglo-German conversations earlier this week, the Berlin authorities tonight generally ridiculed the rumor Hitler had asked elimination of the Polish corridor. It was emphasized this would be foolhardy at a time when friendship with Poland is one of Germany's chief objectives.

Rumors Hitler demanded a portion of Czechoslovakia were considered even more far-fetched, although retaining the territory always has been an important consideration of German foreign policy.

It was believed certain the chancellor emphasized Germany's need of an air force equal to France's or Britain's, but that he demanded a reduction in Russia's air force and army. A spokesman also labeled as "ridiculous" rumors Britain and Germany had agreed that any armistice to be effective must include Russia.

Hitler's proposal for a navy of 400,000 tons, one-third the British navy, is chiefly directed at preventing Russian domination in the Baltic.

ITALY WILL CONSTRUCT
HIGH SPEED BOMBERS

(Copyright, 1935, by the United Press.)

ROME, March 27.—(UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini tonight answered Adolf Hitler's threat to build a huge German air force by announcing tonight that Italy was proceeding with the construction of an aerial fleet including super-bombers capable of 300 miles an hour.

The announcement, made through Under-Secretary for Aviation Giuseppe Valle in the chamber of deputies, revealed large scale production of fighting planes had begun in the past month.

Culbertsons Increase Lead
To Total of 3,250 Points

Wide Margin Maintained at End of 23rd Rubber, After Sims Had Cut Lead to 600 Points.

By ELY T. CULBERTSON.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Though Mrs. Ely T. Culbertson and I were playing a rubber of bridge in the early hands of our marathon contract bridge match here Wednesday night, my wife and I were in the lead by 3,250 points at the conclusion of the twenty-third rubber.

The session Wednesday night was filled with thrills and quick reversals of play. Mrs. Culbertson and I were leading by 3,250 points when the nineteenth rubber began Wednesday night. On the 19th hand, in the twenty-first rubber, Sims, vulnerable, bid three no-trump and I doubled. Sims made five, taking the rubber and added 1,100 points to those he and Mrs. Sims had amassed earlier in the night. That blow cut down our lead to a mere 600 points.

In the last hand of the night I bid and made six spades for a small slam, which with 150 honors, gave Mrs. Culbertson and me a total of 1,550.

At the close of play Wednesday night the blue silken flag with my crest was still flying at top-mast over Crookford's Club and will continue to fly there at top-mast. If by any chance Sims should get the lead, the flag will be half-staffed.

1,480 Added in Afternoon.

Mrs. Culbertson and I added 1,480 points in four rubbers played in the afternoon sessions to the 1,750-point lead we gained in the first two days of play.

In the last rubber, Mrs. Culbertson and I sat back and let Mr. and Mrs. Sims give us points when they bid three-no trump and went down three doubled, not vulnerable, while they let a possible heart game go begging.

Sims had bid hearts three times, but Dorothy wanted it in notrump and passed after my double instead of going on to four hearts.

"Darling," Sims growled, "must I tell you every time that a king doubleton in a suit I bid three times is a raise?"

"But, I thought—," she started.

"Thought!" Sims exploded. "How many times have I told you not to think, just do what I tell you!"

This afternoon's session was the dulllest of the four played. Hands were poor, the bidding and play without drama or color.

We won the 15th and 16th rubbers and the Simses the last two, although in scored points we led in all but the last, due to the number of Sims' sets. We gained 920 points in the 15th, 470 in the 16th, and 100 in the 17th rubber, while Sims and his wife picked up 10 points in the last rubber.

Bid four, Made Seven.

In the 16th rubber I received a shock when I bid four hearts and made seven. It was this way: Sims opened spades instead of a diamond to his wife's ace and later I was able to set up three clubs and discard losing diamonds. Another element of luck bobbed up when the club king fell on the ace. But that was the nearest anybody got to a slam all afternoon.

A tabulation of cards for the 18 rubbers showed the Sims team had 242 aces to our 234 and 244 kings to our 232.

Set One for Loss of 50.

I was set one for a loss of 50 points after Sims led his diamond queen, the only lead which would set the contract. Sims led his queen, I went up with the ace and Mrs. Sims signaled for a return lead with a high diamond. I lost a spade lead to Sims' king, and Sims was able to overtrump on the which was taken by his wife's king. Sims was able to overtrump on the next diamond lead from Mrs. Sims, taking in all two spades, a diamond and a heart.

I could have made the hand had I refused to take the first diamond trick with the ace in dummy. Then Mrs. Sims could never have got in to lead diamonds to Sims' trumps.

Beyond the Alps lies Italy...

Reflections in Lake Como, Italy, have furnished the inspiration for the color effect of Muse's newest neckwear. With the Alps in the background the smooth waters of this famous lake are one great mirror of gorgeous, shaded colors from orange and lemon tree blossoms, olive trees and magnificent Italian shrubs and flowers.

These are the famous Muse ties, the colors in which are dyed and dried in Northern Italy. The warm season which comes to the fertile valleys of the Italian Alps causes a vividness (and a permanence of color) which is not otherwise obtainable. Included in Muse's distinctive selection are block, air-blown and roller prints. $2.50.

21 NEW CHARGES FACE 3 OFFICIALS OF BOND COMPANY

to employees of the corporation and to investors.

Stock Sold, Is Charge.

Numbers of the counts set forth that Bradley had sold, without authority, stocks and bonds left with him by investors for collateral loans. It is also charged that investors were induced to put their money into the corporation on representation that Bradley was related by marriage to the Biddies, of Philadelphia; the du Ponts, of Delaware, and other prominent people and thus received "inside information" which enabled him to make large profits on the stock and commodity markets. It also shows that an expensive series of charts showing various trends and reactions of the stock market were prepared, at a total cost approximating $20,000, by Professor James Stengel, statistician of the corporation, and assistants, but that Bradley never "got around" to reading and inspecting these charts. It is charged they were prepared and used merely as a "front," to impress prospective investors and to inveigle their money away from them.

Approximate figures on the assets and liabilities of the four corporations involved were drawn up Wednesday. Thomas H. Stubbs and Clifford Walker, receivers for the corporations, could not say that these figures were accurate but Mr. Stubbs stated they were approximately correct.

The table shows approximately $40,000 in assets for the four companies without including another $40,000 credited to American Participations, Inc., one of the interlocking corporations, as "collateral." Mr. Stubbs said if there were any such assets the receivers had been unable to uncover them.

Total liabilities for the four are approximated at $540,000, although this is conceded to be a low estimate. Liabilities in excess of this sum are listed in the grand jury indictment returned Tuesday which was admitted only a partial list of claimants. Many claims, however, show no record in the books of the corporations and it is conceded there may be some duplication.

Bradley Has $8,000.
B. R. Bradley is listed as possessing $8,000 in personal assets in this compilation, consisting of balances in a New York bank and in brokerage accounts.

The American Bond & Share Corporation of Georgia is said to include in its assets all the future in the five offices of the corporation, $1,000 in an Atlanta bank and $5,000 in New York banks. Its liabilities consist only of open accounts of more than $9,000.

The American Bond & Share Corporation of Delaware has assets of $3,000 in an Atlanta bank and $12,500 in brokerage accounts. Its liabilities are listed as approximately $400,000 due on service agreements, $500 on open accounts and $300,000 due American Bond & Share Corporation and American Participations, Inc.

The American Bond & Trust Company included as assets $1,000 in an Atlanta bank, $5,000 in Wilmington, Del., bank and $3,000 in brokers' accounts. Its liabilities included $40,000 due on service agreements and $200 on open accounts.

American Participations.
American Participations, Inc., lists as assets $3,000 in an Atlanta bank, $9,000 in brokers' accounts, $5,000 in Wilmington and the undiscovered $40,000 in "collaterals." Its liabilities include $500 in open accounts and $60,000 due on service agreements.

Bradley's assets are given as including $5,000 in a New York bank and $3,000 in brokers' accounts.

Dissolution of the creditors' committee named on March 30 by Judge E. E. Pomeroy, of Fulton superior court, was announced Wednesday.

This committee, which consisted of Edgar Craighead, Sumter M. Kelley and Willis M. Everett Jr., reported to the court it had received approximately $17,000 in claims. The court instructed the committee to turn over to the receivers the list of claimants when completed. The receivers or their representatives stated it was stated would continue the work started by the committee.

List Not Made Public.
The committee members stated they had permitted no one to see the list of claims filed with them and had given out no information relative to the list. The investors listed in the federal indictment returned Tuesday and part of which list was published in the newspapers, was obtained from another source, it was pointed out.

Search for Bradley is being vigorously pushed by the agents of the department of justice and by postoffice inspectors. Chief Inspector Cole stated that, while under the circumstances no information could be given out, his men were closely on the trail of Bradley and an arrest could be expected at any time.

Ingram Leaves Hotel.
United States deputy marshals received the warrant for the arrest of Ingram Wednesday, but on going to the local hotel where he had made his home were told he checked out last Wednesday.

Possibility of lawsuits between individual investors in the American Bond & Share corporations loomed Wednesday when Roy Drennan, attorney for the original petitioner for receiver for the corporation, stated that he had been approached by several clients with this purpose in view.

The suits, if filed, will be based upon the contention that money placed by investors in one corporation was taken by B. R. Bradley, the president, who is now a fugitive under federal indictment, was used to pay large monthly dividends to investors in another corporation and the purpose of the actions in law will be the recovery of this money.

TALMADGE SIGNS TAX LIMITATION

its of a town. This means, Talmadge explained, that the tax on rural property will not exceed 10 mills. Property within the city, however, will be subjected to the 15-mill tax.

"This will cut the tax on tangible property in Georgia over half," said the governor.

"We have been saying a lot about reducing taxes and getting intangible property on the tax books. This talk has been going on for a long time and was like the talk about the weather—nothing was ever done about it."

"At last the general assembly has fixed a constitutional amendment which, if the people write it into law, will protect the property owners of this state from confiscatory taxes."

Classification of Property.
Under the classification provision, property is to be divided into two classes—tangible and intangible.

Intangible property is described as money, notes, accounts, stocks and bonds. Such intangibles as now go on the assessment books in Georgia are already subject to the present five-mill state ad valorem tax, which the governor reduced to four mills by executive order.

Corporate franchises, which are called intangible property in many states, are classed as tangible and subjected to the 15-mill rate.

In commenting on the amendment, the governor said it does not repeal the bonding laws, under which local subdivisions issue bonds and levy a tax with which to retire them up to the constitutional limit.

Property also may be taxed for the retirement of legal indebtedness outstanding as January 1, 1936.

E. D. Rivers, speaker of the house, in a talk to the house of representatives before the assembly adjourned last Saturday, said there was a method in our madness when the conference committee from the house insisted on terming corporate franchises as tangible property.

"Now the big corporations will pay their share of the burden of taxes in Georgia," he said. "What we take off in this limitation we will put back on."

Tax Study Board Named.
A house committee, consisting of 25 members, was authorized to study tax reform in Georgia and make recommendations to the next general assembly. Rivers today was not ready to finish naming the committee. Representative Wilmer D. Lanier, of Augusta, was appointed as the chairman before the legislature adjourned.

The governor made his attack on the house leadership in his weekly article in the Statesman, a paper which he edits.

"A great majority of the house would have adopted the senate appropriations bill if the leaders had allowed it to be placed before them," he wrote.

Administration leaders in the house have charged that action on the appropriations bill was delayed because of the fact that several speeches of praise for house leaders and attaches were made Saturday the last day of the legislative session, and because considerable time was spent in presenting gifts to Speaker E. D. Rivers and others.

The governor said Georgia is "safe" and will be out of debt within the next year and a half, and all the necessary departments of government will function.

This was the chief executive's only reply to inquiries as to whether or not he himself, in view of the lack of an appropriations bill, will disburse state funds to governmental agencies.

Did Not Exceed Budget.
The governor has repeatedly remarked since the close of the general assembly session that the legislature "did not exceed the budget."

"I was hoping," the governor said Wednesday, "that they would agree on the senate appropriations bill. The senate appropriation followed the budget bill that the law required the budget commission to submit to the legislature. This bill could easily have been paid by the revenue of the state and probably have a little left to pay on debts."

"But some departments, you know, think that they are stronger than the people and can bluff the government."

"These departments have a way of blurring some legislators of their political prowess and strength, telling them what they can do to elect them to anything. I think that a whole lot of this was mixed up in the appropriations bill not being passed."

The governor did not identify the departments to which he referred.

Senate President Charles D. Redd said shortly after the general assembly adjourned that the house appropriations bill called for expenditure about $1,000,000 in excess of an-anticipated revenue. He gave this as the reason for the senate not passing the house bill.

Other Measures Signed.
Other measures signed Wednesday by Governor Talmadge will act to give graduates of the Emory University medical school and the University of Georgia medical college at Augusta the right to practice medicine and surgery in the state, regardless of how the schools might be ranked by national medical examiners.

Designated as the "Okefenokee trail" a highway leading from Augusta through Waynesboro, Statesboro, Glennville, Waycross and Folkston to Add the Milledgeville-Perry road to the state-highway system.

Relieve former Tax Collector W. D. Porter, of Bleckley county, and his bondsmen from any obligation upon bond given to the state in 1928.

The vetoed bills would have: Regulated the sale of furs and licensing of fur dealers in the state.

Granted the city of Tallapoosa authority to establish and maintain public schools.

Provided that the ordinary of Brantley county act as county treasurer.

Added the Thomasboro-Talbotton road to the state-highway system.

Commenting on the entire situation, the Savannah Morning News had this editorially Wednesday morning: "Politics Close State's Machinery."

"If Senator David S. Atkinson has correctly analyzed the causes leading up to the financial tangle in which the state finds itself, as a result of the general assembly's failure to pass a general appropriations bill (and there is nothing to indicate that the senator from the first district has incorrectly diagnosed the situation), then the state has been the victim of the most selfish display of factional politics in the annals of Georgia. The fact that the state will probably safely emerge from the muddle does not remove the odium which attaches to those responsible for creating the unfortunate situation.

"Senator Atkinson is reliably reported to have expressed the opinion that the failure of the general assembly to pass the general appropriations bill was due to the fact that it was used more for politics than the public good and was brought about deliberately by those having the appointment of the conference committee."

If he is correct in this opinion, and he had every opportunity to view the maneuvers at close range, those having the power of appointment of the conference committee have besmirched themselves in the eyes of the people by wielding that power in such a way as to promote their own selfish political aspirations, evidently disregarding the general welfare of the state.

"Senator Atkinson sets forth in his statement that neither the president of the senate nor the speaker of the house would appoint members of the conference committee who would be willing to accede to the wishes of the other, or effect a compromise. The failure to enact this law was neither the fault of the house nor the senate, but was brought about deliberately by those having the appointment of the conference committee."

Unless the two legislative bodies can successfully controvert the grave accusations made against them, their betrayal of a public trust for purely selfish political aggrandizement should be sufficient to relegate them to political oblivion.

"Although no definite solution of the problem has come forth from Atlanta as to how to untangle the snarl which has developed over the failure to pass a general appropriations bill, the salutary feature of the situation is that Governor Talmadge expresses confidence that 'the state is all right' and it is generally believed that he will find some way by which he can assume control of expenditures without an appropriation measure and

Bonnie Hill Indicted On Charge of Murder

NEW ORLEANS, March 27.—(AP) Bonnie Hill alias Marion King, 23, was indicted by the parish grand jury late today on a charge of murder in connection with the fatal stabbing of John Irving Pierce, 23, in a French quarter night club last Friday.

Pierce, scion of a prominent Jackson, Miss., family, was stabbed in the heart with his own knife which the girl said he had handed her after a night of merriment.

She told police Pierce took her to his French quarter apartment six months ago from a waterfront cabaret and cured her of the narcotic habit, without calling a special session of the general assembly, at least during the present year. Upon adjournment of the legislature he was quoted as saying: "Why cross the bridge until you get to it? We have an appropriation bill to operate on until January 1, 1936. There is an abundance of assurance in that statement, yet it does not clear the record of those responsible for the situation."

Insurance and Vaccination Seen Equal in Importance

Are you vaccinated?
Rather a dumb question in this day of enlightened medical science, when everyone recognizes the menace of the smallpox scourge and takes measures against it.

Are you insured?
That's a different matter, eh? Yet you must realize the seriousness of the threat to you personally and to every member of your family by the ever-growing accident wave.

Why take chances with your prosperity, with the comfort of your wife and children and with the future of your dependents?

Quite a number of The Constitution's subscribers who have taken advantage of the insurance feature are constantly allowing the policies to lapse; in many instances those who have been paying the small amount of 10 cents per month, which every subscriber can readily pay for such valuable protection, have seen fit to discontinue the insurance feature. In many instances, a short time after the insurance had been discontinued they had accidents and found out when it was too late what a mistake they had made.

If you are one of those who are now protected through The Atlanta Constitution's insurance service features, be sure to keep your payments up promptly.

The insurance offered you through The Atlanta Constitution is issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company, of Chicago, Ill., which company has already paid Atlanta Constitution subscribers over $200,000. The insurance is offered to subscribers of the daily and Sunday Constitution and immediate dependent members of the subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 60 on the one subscription going into the home at a small registration fee of 20 cents with application and 10 cents per month thereafter in addition to the subscription price, or $1 each per policy per year in advance to subscribers who live in Atlanta and Atlanta suburbs where we have carrier delivery. Out-of-town subscribers can have this insurance by paying $1 per policy per year in advance.

This insurance offered through The Atlanta Constitution provides for the payment of sums ranging downward from $10,000 for travel, $1,000 for auto and pedestrian deaths resulting from certain specified accidents, heavy sums for permanent injuries, and $10 weekly indemnity for total disability resulting from accidents set forth in the policy, which is at the rate of $43.33 per month.

In sending application for insurance, the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation, and if beneficiary is desired the full Christian name of beneficiary must be given and relationship of same to the insured.
Do your duty! Protect yourself and family today. Tomorrow may be too late!

Court Order Halts Knoxville Power Work

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., March 27.—(AP)—Charging the city of Knoxville with entering into "unlawful competition" with its business, the Tennessee Public Service Company, local utility, today obtained a temporary injunction halting work on the city's new municipal power distribution system.

The city has a contract to use Tennessee Valley Authority electricity. The injunction, granted by Chancellor A. E. Icheil, of Knox county, also restrained the city from obtaining further funds from the Public Works Administration or any other source for use in building the municipal system, and delivering the city's bonds to PWA.

FIRE DRIVER IS NAMED TO SUCCEED COOGLER

Fireman John Williams, of station house No. 11, was named driver for Assistant Fire Chief P. S. Fleming at the meeting of the board of firemasters Wednesday night. Williams succeeds the late Sidney J. Coogler Jr., who was killed when the automobile he was driving collided at Ponce de Leon and Piedmont avenues with an automobile driven by Albert Hall, negro, as Coogler was driving Chief Fleming to a fire on Parkway drive. Chief Fleming is recovering from injuries received in the crash.

The firemasters suspended Fireman B. W. Craft, of station house No. 14, for 15 days for being absent without leave. Councilman W. M. Sutton, of the twelfth ward, chairman, presided.

New Mineral Tonic Stops Indigestion the First Day

Science now knows that a weak, rundown condition, loss of weight, thin blood, and many other common complaints are often due to the system being starved for vital mineral salts that the body must have to maintain vigorous health. Pepicol quickly relieves these conditions and supplies the blood, nerves, and tissues with elements that promote a quick return to normal health, strength, and vitality, and build up reserve stamina. Pepicol, strengthens digestion from the very first day, cleanses the system of poisonous waste, and promotes rich, red blood. It strengthens action of liver, bowels, and other vital organs. In two or three days after starting on this remarkable new tonic preparation that tired, rundown feeling disappears, appetite and digestion improve, you sleep better, and the entire system begins to take on new strength, energy, and vitality. Thin, nervous people begin to pick up needed weight from the very first bottle. Pepicol is sold for only $1 under positive money-back guarantee if it fails to benefit you. Now at all good druggists.—(adv.)

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sick and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your downcast mood is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel drowsy and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't take for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25¢ at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

MODERNIZE with Gas FOR Economy

The gas range of today brings you modern scientific cooking at its best—and most economical.

You have, first of all, the unrivaled economy of gas fuel—a very important factor in keeping cooking costs down.

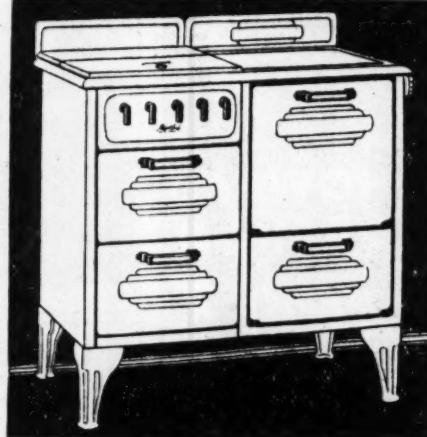

Then, the modern gas range is itself most economical to operate. The revolutionary new simmer-burners, alone, save an almost unbelievable amount of gas. Oven insulation, likewise, saves gas. The exact amount of heat needed is always easily obtainable—there is no wasted fuel.

Ventilated fresh-air ovens prevent food shrinkage—another economy note.

There's the saving, also, in time and labor, that modern, convenient cooking-with-gas means to you. It takes away the drudgery—makes your effort count.

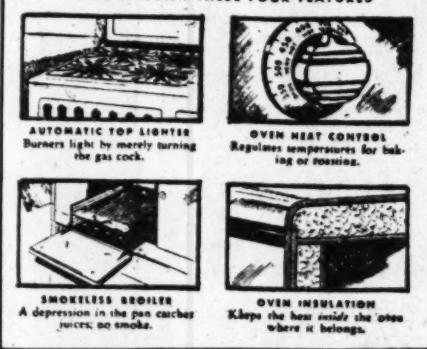

Our Spring Range Sale, with its liberal trade-in-allowance, makes it so easy to change your old stove for a modern gas range. Come in TODAY and make your selection.

growing states to discuss between themselves and with other interests their respective cotton problems." C. C. Hanson, of Memphis, executive secretary, announced tonight.

Hanson said that 110 distinct groups, including farmers, merchants, bankers, ginners, transportation lines, factors, brokers, shippers, exporters, oil mills, cotton exchanges, compresses, warehouses and spinners, will be asked to present their views before the commissioners. Notices of the meeting were sent today to commissioners of Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Missouri, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Mississippi, Texas and Florida, all members of the association. Invitations also were sent to commissioners of Kentucky, Illinois, Arizona, California and New Mexico. Governor J. Marion Futrell was asked to represent Arkansas.

Commissioner Harry D. Wilson, of Louisiana, is president of the group.

WALLACE SEES HIKE IN PROCESSING TAX

ers who struck are not entitled to reinstatement because, since the mills were not forced by the strike to shut down completely, there was, in effect, no strike, said a statement by Thomas F. McMahon, UFW president.

He said this was "strange reasoning, which we shall again challenge." The textile union contended the decisions were inconsistent with one rendered by the board in the case of the Byrum Hosiery Mills, of Shelby, N. C., in which discrimination was found.

The board, in its decision today, pointed out that although the Byrum plant operated during the strike by shifting employees, new workers instead of the strikers were employed when the general strike was called off.

In the 96 and Alexander cases, it continued, the mills did not employ new workers after the strike, and offered jobs to strikers whose places had not been filled during the walk-out.

The board contested the statement that the unsuccessfulness of the strike was a principal point in its decision.

The reference to the unsuccessfulness of the strike had to do with the facts, the opinion said. "In numerous instances, this board has decided in favor of complainants without regard to the results of the strike, whether successful or otherwise."

A final decision in the discrimination case against the North Spinning Company, of Stony Point, N. C., upheld an earlier one in which the mill was ordered to reinstate strikers.

GEORGIA MILL LEADERS
CONFER WITH DELEGATION
BY OLDSBORO WILLIAMS
WASHINGTON, March 27.—(AP)—Problems of the harassed textile industry were before the Georgia delegation in congress today by a group of manufacturers representing all phases of the industry in Georgia.

Headed by W. K. Moore, of Dalton, president of the Georgia Manufacturers' Association, nine state textile executives joined in a conference with delegation members in the office of Senator Walter F. George to present grievances of the industry revolving around NRA restrictions, lack of markets and general government interference.

The textile leaders expressed enthusiastic support of the amendment Senator George recently attached to the $4,880,000,000 work-relief bill authorizing President Roosevelt in his discretion to eliminate the cotton and other agricultural commodity processing taxes by having the government bear the burden of the levies out of proceeds of the huge fund. As the processing taxes are now administered by manufacturers pay the costs, passing it on to consumers with consequent loss in the demand for textile goods, it is claimed.

All members of the state congressional group participated in the conference, including Senator Richard B. Russell Jr. While no specific program was formally adopted, the delegation manifested a sympathetic attitude over the plight of the industry and expressed a desire to co-operate, feeling that both employment and business would be aided.

Roosevelt Disapproves.

As spokesman for the representatives, Mr. Moore urged that the amendment be retained by conferees of the two houses who are now engaged in straightening out differences between the senate and house. He said that while the textile industry of Georgia was primarily interested in temporary relief from the processing tax the industry did not wish to interfere with benefits being received by cotton farmers and that no interference would result if the president would use his good discretion and use whatever sum was needed from the work-relief bill, to "aid a now suffering industry."

Before the textile representative reached Washington, Senator George conferred with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and learned that the secretary was opposed to the amendment because he feared it would interfere too much with his general "control program." Later, it was disclosed that Secretary Wallace had so advised the senate conferees. And it is understood that the secretary of agriculture is voicing the sentiments of the president. For this reason the Georgia delegation was able to add the textile representatives whether his amendment would be retained.

During the conference this afternoon the textile representatives briefly explained their warehouse stocks, accumulation of stock, and sales resistance which, they said, had been increasing by leaps and bounds recently.

With the approval of his fellow representatives, Mr. Moore declared that the industry was in a "desperate" situation. He said that the industry was in a "desperate" situation. He said that the industry was in a "desperate" situation.

Japanese Feared.
"If some form of substantial federal relief is not forthcoming," Mr. Moore declared, "Japanese textile importations will flood the American market to such an extent that our industry will soon be completely paralyzed."

Section 3-E of the NIRA, which supplements the "codes of fair competition" provision, provides that on his own motion, or if any labor, trade or industrial organization which has complied with the act, make complaint to the president that any articles are being imported into the United States in substantial quantities or in increasing ratios to domestic production of such articles so as to endanger the maintenance of codes, the chief executive may cause an immediate investigation to be made, and if facts justify, may curtail or embargo such importations.

The textile representatives said they wished trade agreements worked out that would limit foreign importations of textile articles, so that the domestic industry might be given a fighting chance to regain at least a partial fraction of their former business.

Besides Mr. Moore the textile representatives attending the conference were Hill Freeman, of the Newman Cotton Mills; J. H. Cheatham, of Griffin, of the Georgia Kincaid chain of mills; J. A. Mandeville, Carrollton Cotton Mills; Norman Elsas, of Atlanta; E. L. Fishburne, of Dalton; J. H. Swift, of Swift Spinning Mills; D. W. Anderson, Paelet Mills, Gainesville, and Landing Thomas, of Enterprise Mills, Augusta.

NEW ENGLAND CONGRESSMEN
JOIN LABOR IN PROTESTS
WASHINGTON, March 27.—(AP)—Fast moving developments tonight found the cotton textile industry more disturbed than any time since the general strike last September.

Within 24 hours after NRA, in a move calculated to avert wholesale closing of cotton mills, issued an order providing for production curtailment over a 12-week period, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace announced at a press conference there was probability the cotton processing tax would be increased, rather than lowered as demanded by textile communities.

Wallace's statement brought down the indignation of New England house members. A move was launched for a conference of the New England delegation to prepare a protesting resolution to be sent to Wallace, and to be presented to both houses of congress.

Labor in Arms.
Labor already was directing its fire at the NRA for its order providing for production curtailment and announced it would demand from the National Recovery Board a reopening of the cotton textile code and a new, impartial survey of the entire industry.

Wallace's statement evoked from Representative Gifford, republican, Massachusetts, the comment that "it is hard to believe that so preposterous a statement could have been made after the representations which have been made regarding damages already done to the textile industry."

Representative Rogers, republican, Massachusetts, asserted that "any increase in the cotton processing tax will mean a death blow to New England cotton mills."

Wallace's statement, which incensed representatives of mill communities, asserted that the cotton textile industry periodically became overstocked and declared:

"At this time they think it is popular to come out with this outcry (against the processing tax). Wallace said imports of Japanese cloth were not as great at the present time as they were 10 or 11 years ago, and added:

Means 30-Hour Week.
"In view of the present price of cotton, it is much more probable that we would have an increase in the processing tax rather than a reduction."

Later, the AAA in a statement contended that the manufacturers' margins between the price of cotton and selling prices were higher at the peak point in August than at any other time since 1925.

Asserting they would demand reopening of the entire code, the textile workers declared: "We have reached a point where something better than quick doctoring has got to be done about this industry, whose workers are the mainstay of our economic structure. The kind of patience that leads to starvation has no virtue of which textile workers are aware."

The textile workers, after a conference to which President Thomas F. McMahon was hurriedly summoned from New England, declared the curtailment order meant a 30-hour week with a resultant 25 per cent reduction in actual wages.

Attacking along another front, Francis J. Gorman, organization director of the United Textile Workers, today appeared before the house committee on military affairs to urge enactment of the Connelly bill to require approval of the secretary of war before federal equipment could be used by national guardsmen on strike duty.

MULE, ROSIN CLAUSES
OFFERED BY SEN. BILBO
WASHINGTON, March 27.—(AP)—Senator Bilbo, of Mississippi, silent on the senate floor but a studious worker behind the scenes, revealed today some of the fruits of his endeavors in championing development of southern industries and future plants to aid the cotton farmer.

Washington was disappointed when the political leader of the magnolia state elected his silent ally to listen to senate debate. They had expected fireworks.

Bilbo let it be known today that he already has launched efforts to aid the southern farmer by protecting the mule industry and developing the turpentine and rosin industry of the south. After that he wants to prevail upon the government to aid the cotton farmer by developing new uses for cotton so as to consume the surplus.

The agriculture appropriation bill, reported to the senate today, included two Bilbo amendments. One provides $25,000 for establishment of a laboratory in the south to hunt for a cure for the swamp fever which is killing off mules.

The other seeks $20,000 for research by the government to develop different uses for turpentine and rosin with a view to expanding this southern industry.

Later Bilbo hopes to gain congressional approval of an annual appropriation for research work to aid the cotton industry.

FARM, HOME TEACHERS SOUGHT FOR GEORGIA

Collins Also Asks U. S. To Initiate Program of Rural Sanitation.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(AP)—Dr. M. D. Collins, Georgia school superintendent, proposed to the Federal Farm Administration today that it put teachers of vocational agriculture and home economics in every county of his state which now have no instruction in these subjects.

A rural sanitation program for Georgia was discussed by the educator with relief administration officials.

"The proposal to put vocational agriculture and home economics teachers in Georgia looks good," said Collins, "and it might come through."

The sanitation program would involve an expenditure of approximately $1,300,000, he estimated. In connection with this work relief officials were urged to send two teachers into every county to give instruction on the value and methods of sanitation.

Collins will remain here tomorrow, hopeful that Harry L. Hopkins, relief administrator, might act upon Georgia's request for $2,500,000 to prevent closing of rural schools. The education head said some schools already had closed, "and others in 100 Georgia counties would shut down if they didn't expect to get help from the government."

Presidential Plans Denied by Townsend

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(UP)—Dr. F. E. Townsend, author of the $200 monthly old age pension plan, said today that he was not planning to run for president in 1936.

Townsend said that statements to this effect by Charles M. Hawks, his representative, were "overenthusiastic."

"I do not plan to run for president under any circumstances," Townsend said. "I do not feel that I am fitted physically or mentally for the task."

2 SOUTH CAROLINANS GET HIGH COURT POSTS
COLUMBIA, S. C., March 27.—(AP) Representatives D. Gordon Baker, of Florence, and E. L. Fishburne, of Colleton, were elected by the legislature tonight to fill two associate justiceships on the South Carolina supreme court.

Baker was elected by a landslide vote on the fifth ballot taken and Fishburne was elected on the next ballot as support swung back to him. Seven candidates had been nominated.

7 ATLANTANS SIGN LIQUOR PETITION

First of 5,000 Blanks Delivered To City Clerk Tatum.

Seven persons Wednesday signed the petition asking for a referendum on establishment of municipal liquor stores in Atlanta following delivery of the first of 5,000 petitions to the office of J. Henson Tatum, city clerk.

Those who wish to sign the petitions must do so in the office of the city clerk on the first floor of the city hall. Under an ordinance passed September 19, 1927, such petitions must be signed before the clerk.

Councilman Howard C. McCutcheon, second ward, repellant and advocate of the dispensary system of control in Atlanta, Wednesday afternoon told Mayor Key that he will ask council Monday to rescind the ordinance if the required number of petitions has not been signed by that time.

"I want the people of Atlanta to decide this thing," Key said Wednesday in announcing that he will call on citizens to support the referendum. "I don't want the municipal liquor store sidetracked by any other action that might be taken."

Plans to place buses at the disposal of Atlantans in the drive to get 1,500 names on the petition before Monday's council meeting were being laid. If they materialize, signs will be placed on the large buses telling citizens who were registered for the 1934 general election to get in and free to the city hall to sign the petition.

Tatum and Mayor Key held a conference during the afternoon on provisions of the ordinance governing the signing of the petitions. Tatum said that his office has checked the 1934 registration list and that tax receipts for payment of poll taxes will not be required of those who wish to sign the petition.

If the required number of signatures is obtained by Monday the petition will be presented to Monday's session of council. If not it will be delayed until the following council meeting.

2 ITALIANS CONVICTED IN PLOT ON IL DUCE

ROME, March 27.—(AP)—The special tribunal for the defense of the state today found two men guilty of a plot to bomb a train in which Premier Mussolini was riding.

Mario Abbiati was sentenced to eight years imprisonment and Luigi Tambussi was ordered to jail for four years.

The public prosecutor surprised the court by comparatively light demands for punishment.

Liner Morro Castle Is Sold as Junk

NEW YORK, March 27.—(AP)—The liner Morro Castle, pride of the American coastwise fleet before fire swept through her last September with the loss of 124 lives, was sold as junk today for $53,000.

The Morro Castle, once queen of the Ward Line, was completed in 1930 at a cost of approximately $5,000,000. Lieutenant Colonel Edward A. Ardery, of the army engineers, announced that he had accepted the offer of the highest bidder, the Union Shipbuilding Company, of Baltimore, Md.

One bidder offered just $3,000 for the hulk.

Plans to place buses at the disposal of Atlantans in the drive to get 1,500 names on the petition before Monday's council meeting were being laid. Hour Glass Mystery Solved; Heralds Haverty Birthday

Miss Mae Herrin and W. H. Slater, vice president and manager of Haverty's main store in Atlanta, with some of the thousands of miniature hour glasses to be given as souvenirs to all visitors at Haverty's during opening day of its fiftieth anniversary celebration beginning Friday.

The puzzle of the strange miniature hour glasses is no more—the secret is out.

Just as the messages have said, "The Hour is at Hand."

The donor of these mystifying gifts to many prominent citizens of Atlanta, has been identified as the Haverty Furniture Company, 22 Edgewood avenue, which celebrates the fiftieth year of its founding Friday with the launching of the greatest sale in the half-century of business.

In addition to disclosing that they were the donors of the small golden hour glasses, the Haverty Company officials also announced that they have thousands of the little timers to give absolutely free to each and every visitor to the store Friday and Saturday. There is no obligation to buy or to even sign anything attached to this gift offered, it was emphatically stated at the store.

Haverty took this unusual means of announcing its fiftieth year sale for two reasons, W. H. Slater, vice president and manager of the main Atlanta store said, "First, we wanted to pay tribute to a number of Atlanta's more prominent citizens by presenting them with one of the little golden hour glasses, emblematic of our fiftieth year, and then, too, we felt that such an important event should merit an unusual announcement. From the comments we have heard during the past several days we feel that we accomplished our aims."

Special Plans Made.

The sale which opens Friday at the Haverty store is the culmination of many months intensive planning and buying on the part of all Haverty officials. For an institution to reach 50 years is an event worthy of the most elaborate preparations, it is Atlanta and Haverty has spared no effort or expense to make the fiftieth year sale by far the greatest of any sale in their half-century of business.

Manufacturers with whom Haverty has been doing business for many years and, in some cases, during the entire life of the business, have all designed and manufactured special "50-year values" to be offered exclusively by Haverty during the celebration of their half-century in business. In addition to offering these new styles, these manufacturing friends of the company have made substantial price concessions so that Haverty in turn can offer greater values to their customers.

Every department in the store is abundantly stocked with this special merchandise, which, incidentally, bears a special Haverty fiftieth year tag, to immediately identify it as one of the unusual values designed, manufactured and priced for this fiftieth year sale.

The first informal showing of new spring merchandise, a traditional event in connection with Haverty anniversaries, will be the gayest and most colorful since the business was launched in 1885, it was stated by Mr. Slater.

Color Reflects Trend.

"The very furniture itself, in its fabrics, in its color and its designs, has taken on the reflection of better, happier times than have marked this city and its people in the forty-fourth in 1926," Mr. Slater asserted.

"Haverty's has experienced the rise and fall and the varying cycles of our country for half a century, therefore our records give a good indication as to what to expect in the future," he explained.

"It is indeed encouraging to look back over last year's record, and then to note that the same general trend upward has continued over into this one. Haverty's feel confident that the future is indeed bright and as a result our buyers have placed commitments for a larger quantity of merchandise for this sale than in any previous time in our history. Our advertising plans call for tripling our usual space consumption. We have additional employees to all departments. In other words, Haverty's is doing good business and is expecting to do better business during this sale, and we are looking for a good business with good, honest American dollars already spent," he concluded.

The history of the Haverty Furniture Company is as fascinating as the section in which it had its birth and in which it has grown to maturity.

Today, 15 Haverty stores stand majestically in 17 southern cities scattered over nine states, a monument to the courage of their founder, J. J. Haverty. They, in their modern grandeur and magnitude, bespeak little of the epochal struggles of the man who won for himself and his business a high place in the business world. But behind the Haverty stores is a history that parallels the history of the south itself.

Founded in Atlanta, Haverty's was founded in Atlanta, in the spring of 1885 in a small 20-foot store, on one of the many side streets, J. J. Haverty putting all the savings of his youthful exertion in the furniture business and all the capital he could borrow from friends and associates.

PALMER TAKES COURSE IN AIR CONDITIONING

Bowden L. Palmer, air conditioning engineer with the W. D. Alexander Company, General Electric distributors, has just returned from a four-week training course held at the General Electric Air Conditioning Institute in Schenectady, N. Y. This course was given by the General Electric Company to further train their field representatives in air conditioning.

Approximately 200 persons from all over the United States and Canada attended this air conditioning school, which was one of the finest of its kind ever held in this country and which covered all phases of the air conditioning business.

Each of the air conditioning products of the General Electric Company, including the oil furnace, gas furnace, room air conditioners, room coolers and refrigerating equipment, were covered in detail; also the application of problems involved in intricate air conditioning systems.

Daily and weekly examinations were held as well as a final examination at the end of the course. There were also several actual air conditioning problems given for solution by the attending engineers.

As a prize to be awarded the man making the highest average for the course, the General Electric Company gave a trip with the Yacht Club, an eight-day cruise to Bermuda, here each January, which is awarded annually to sales engineers making sales totaling about $25,000. Mr. Palmer won this prize having an average of 96.8 per cent for the course.

The W. D. Alexander Company has a complete engineering and installation service available to any interested in air conditioning in any of its forms. At present, this firm is installing a total of $35,000 worth of air conditioning equipment in various places in Georgia.

ATLANTA AUDIENCES FOR FLYING THEATER

Atlantans will be given the opportunity today to see the first airplane ever equipped with a motion picture projector and sound reproduction equipment.

The plane, a giant Douglas transport, the type recently flown on a record flight between New York and Miami by Eddie Rickenbacker, is equipped with two Wright Cyclone engines, with the ability to develop enough power to propel the 12,000-pound plane through the air at a cruising speed of 210 miles per hour.

With accommodations for 12 passengers, besides pilot and co-pilot and motion picture operators, the flying theater is brought to Atlanta in connection with the showing of "Baboonia," Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson's aerial epic over Africa, which will be seen at the Fox theater starting Friday.

The picture will be shown today to selected Atlanta guests while flying over the city.

The first flight will take off at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, with a second flight scheduled for 4 o'clock. Invited for the first flight are Herbert Porter, Dudley Glavin and Mildred Seydel of the Atlanta Georgian; Frank Daniel and O. R. Keeler, of the Atlanta Journal; Ralph T. Jones, of the Constitution; William H. Hines, chairman aviation committee of city council; William K. Jenkins and A. C. Cowles, of the Lucas & Jenkins theaters, and Dan Bridges, chairman of the police committee.

On the second flight the invited guests at Mayor Key, Luke Arnold, secretary to the mayor; Governor Talma, Wiley Moore, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Max Land, president Women's Club; Mrs. Alva Maxwell, president Better Films Committee; James Pope, of the Atlanta Journal; H. G. Hager, Eastern Air Lines; Hugh Howell, A. P. Caldwell, of the Associated Press; Ed Wilson, of the Atlanta Press, and Bob Nixon, International News Service.

Alabaman Convicted In Shooting of Wife

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 27.—(AP)—A criminal court jury today convicted Frank Slayton, former postal employee, of hiring a negro to shoot his wife as she slept in her suburban home and imposed a sentence of five years in prison.

The jury deliberated an hour and a half. Slayton was charged with assault with intent to murder.

The jury took the case shortly after 3 o'clock after Slayton had taken the stand to deny any connection with the wounding of his wife.

The state charged that Slayton hired Percy Bragg, negro, to shoot Mrs. Slayton and Bragg yesterday took the stand to accuse the defendant with hiring him to shoot Mrs. Slayton for $48 and the promise of a job.

Mrs. Slayton also testified in her husband's defense today, deprecating the charges and saying that the home life of her husband and herself had been happy.

Although denying any connection with the shooting of his wife, Slayton did say that he had had intimate relations with Miss Willie Lou Teachworth, called as a state witness in an effort by the state to show a motive for the charge against Slayton.

LINDER AND ANDERSON TO SPEAK AT MOULTRIE

"March of Progress" Celebration Is To Be Held Friday and Saturday.

MOULTRIE, Ga., March 27.—(AP)—Skeptics who come to Moultrie Friday or Saturday on the occasion of the "March of Progress" ceremonies will be shown proof that a big building program has been under way during the past three years in the form of newly finished residences and other improvements in the process of erection. In the business district they will find a two-story building, covering half a block, which is to be the home of a local department store, going up, and eight other stores which have been remodeled, or now being improved, since the first of the year.

W. T. Anderson, editor and publisher of the Moultrie Telegraph, has accepted an invitation to make an address Friday afternoon. That day is school day and at 3 o'clock more than 6,000 school children will parade through the business district.

Saturday is "Farmers and Future Farmers' Day," with Tom Linder, commissioner of agriculture, scheduled to make the principal address.

Gordon College Commandant Quits Following Strike of Fifty Students

BARNESVILLE, Ga., March 27.—(AP)—A strike of 50 students at Gordon Military College, resulting from their protest at disciplinary action taken against seven students who shaved part of the hair off their heads, was settled today, as resignation of Captain Dan Baugh, college military commandant, was announced.

The striking students, numbering about one-fifth of the student body, refused to go to classes yesterday afternoon. Captain Baugh, retired army officer and member of the regular college faculty, suspended the seven students until April 7.

President Joe Guillebeau, of the college, said he assumed that Captain Baugh's resignation was in the nature of a protest at plans of the faculty to extend leniency to the suspended students.

The seven students are to be given a hearing next Monday, Guillebeau said.

The college president said everything was running as usual at the college and that the striking students, who held a protest meeting last night, were back in their classes.

Early Peach Season For Georgia Is Seen

MACON, Ga., March 27.—(AP)—A normal crop of Georgia peaches which may be expected to ripen a week to 10 days ahead of recent years is expected this season, according to W. O. Coker, manager of the Georgia Peach Growers' Exchange. This is a result of ideal weather conditions that have prevailed since last season.

Early ripening of the peaches, depending on weather between now and the last of May, will mean high prices for the early fruit. Peach growers always welcome an early season of blooms on that account and hope that nothing to upset the start may retard the ripening.

"The only possible dangers to the crop now," Coker said, "are from frost and hail, either or both of which might somewhat reduce the crop, but any great reduction is improbable."

'NEW DEAL' IS UPHELD AT SAVANNAH MEETING

D. S. Owen, of Hinesville, Heads South Georgia Association.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 27.—(AP)—Ralph Bradford, of Washington, D. C., who was here today for the annual meeting of the South Georgia Association, said that the "New Deal" was upheld by the association.

The meeting was called by the association membership of the Savannah Chamber of Commerce to discuss problems of this section and was attended by representative citizens from a part of the state and Savannah's trade area in South Carolina.

Mr. Bradford, who is connected with the United States Chamber of Commerce, said the depression could not be called an emergency, but termed it a liquidation period following an era of prosperity such as the nation has passed through the depression.

"The 'New Deal' was upheld by Dr. S. V. Sanford, president of the University of Georgia, speaking this morning at the meeting. He said that the means of ending the depression, but as America's distinctive and sound answer to world chaos, Europe has answered the challenge with a new system of communism, fascism and laissez-faire, he said.

D. S. Owen, Hinesville, was named president of the organization. Other officers elected are I. S. Smith, Reidsville, vice president; Thomas R. Jones, Savannah, secretary; Mrs. Leona Bradford, Waycross, assistant secretary.

The release of the birds followed a parade through the business section. Birds from Savannah, Macon, Atlanta, Brunswick, Jacksonville, Fla.; Decatur, Charlotte, N. C., and other cities were among those set free with the messages.

2 NEW BOARDS VOTED IN CAROLINA SENATE

Bill to Create State Aviation Body Passed and Sent to House.

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 27.—(AP)—Two new state regulatory boards would be created under terms of bills passed today by the senate in a fast moving session.

The chamber passed to the house a bill to create a state aviation board which rates said might be instrumental in bringing $1,000,000 in federal funds into South Carolina to develop airports, and which would be authorized to ground unsafe planes.

The senate approved, and returned to the house, with amendments, a bill to create a state board to regulate the practice of chiropody or podiatry.

The senate sent to third reading a ways and means committee bill to require detailed reports of gasoline shipments and deliveries to be made to the state tax commission. Senator Stokes, of Clarendon, said the bill was to "tighten up" on the gasoline tax law to prevent smuggling.

After refusing by a vote of 81 to 12 to continue a bill to restrict the shad fishing season and prohibit the use of gill nets, the house passed the bill and sent it to the senate.

An objection by Representative Melette, of Clarendon, placed under the head of contested matter a bill by Representative Calhoun, of Thomas, and 66 others to permit the sale of "naturally fermented" wines.

The legislature elected J. C. Darby, reading clerk of the house, to the state public service commission to succeed J. E. Beaumont, of Clarendon, chairman of the commission and a member since 1928, and re-elected three other commissioners: John C. Conner, of Revesville, first district; R. J. Pearson, of Starr, third district, and J. W. Wolfe, of Spartanburg, fourth district.

South Carolina meanwhile made her first move to shoulder a portion of the social security burden when a senate committee, headed by Senator Sims, of Orangeburg, announced it would draft a bill for a $42,000 appropriation to match federal funds to retain an unemployment relief office here.

ROOSEVELT UNABLE TO VISIT S. CAROLINA

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(AP)—President Roosevelt let it be formally known today that it was impossible for him to accept an invitation from the South Carolina legislature to visit that state during his southern trip.

CAROLINANS WILL VOTE ON TAXATION CHANGES

RALEIGH, N. C., March 27.—(AP)—The senate today agreed to submit to the people in 1936 a number of proposed amendments to the taxation sections of the state constitution.

The house worked on the biennial appropriations bill and showed little inclination to change the joint committee's recommendations.

The proposed taxation changes would: Raise the limit on income taxes from six to seven per cent; allow the classification of real and personal property for taxation; permit local units to exempt from taxation homesteads occupied by the owners up to $1,000 in value, and place a new limitation on public indebtedness.

The bill to permit sale of five per cent beer in the state, which passed Monday night, was ratified into law.

The senate passed a measure, already passed by the house, which permits small banks to open branches as long as the ratio of deposits to capital structure does not exceed 10 to 1. A similar law now allows banks with capital structure in excess of $1,000,000 to open branches but bars smaller banks.

TENNESSEE BILL ASK STATE LIQUOR STORES

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 27.—(UP)—State-owned whisky stores would be operated by the state under a repeal bill introduced in the Tennessee house today.

A three-man commission, appointed by the governor, would control operation of the stores.

Hotels, restaurants and clubs would be licensed to sell whiskies by the state.

ONE OF THE MANY

Atlanta HOMES

EQUIPPED WITH

MONCRIEF Air CONDITIONING

This charming brick home of Mr. C. R. Roberts, Woodward Way, designed by Will Griffin, architect, is but one of the hundreds of Atlanta Homes that enjoy the comfort, health and cleanliness of Moncrief Air-Conditioning. This installation uses natural gas for fuel.

With this modern system this beautiful home is comfortable winter and summer. The air is properly moistened, cleaned and filtered of dust, dirt and bacteria. Rugs, draperies and furnishings are free from the usual dust accumulation and redepositing.

Costs are materially reduced. Moncrief Air-Conditioning System protects the health of the family by catching and destroying bacteria in the air filters.

Investigate this modern system today—it can be economically installed in either a new home or one already built, and can use coal, oil or gas for fuel.

Moncrief also installs furnaces, water-heating, roof-top air conditioning, radiating and humidification systems and refrigeration for home cooking.

Ad Club Speaker

Robert Hecht, prominent Atlanta and president of the International Corporation, will address the Atlanta Advertising Club today at 12:30 o'clock, in Rich's tea room.

Mr. Hecht's subject will be "European Advertising as Seen by an Atlanta Businessman." The talk will be illustrated with posters, newspapers, photographs and literature brought here directly from Germany, Italy, France for the purpose.

Ledlie W. Conner will introduce the speaker, and the meeting will be directed by Robert E. Martin, president of the club.

Representatives, upon motion of Speaker W. M. Haynes, set the appropriation bill for reconsideration at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

Signed by 37 representatives, a measure was presented to allow each assembly member an extra $150 for expenses during the session.

SALES TAX IS VOTED IN MISSOURI HOUSE

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 27.—(UP)—The Missouri house of representatives today passed a 2 per cent general sales tax but administration leaders, who estimated it will produce $20,000,000 annually in revenue, were unable to command the necessary majority to make the bill effective immediately. The measure now goes to the senate for action.

AMENDMENTS IN COMMITTEE

On a test roll call last week the measure received enough votes for passage.

Amendments in committee would limit the sweepstakes to two a year and dedicate the revenue to the support of state-owned schools and hospitals.

A similar bill has already passed the senate. Either measure would require a referendum in the election next year before becoming effective.

TAX UNIT INVESTIGATOR IS TRANSFERRED HERE

Don't Pay Over 25c For Medicine Friday and Saturday

Sufferers From Stomach Trouble,
Weak Kidneys, Lazy Liver,
Nervousness and General
Run-Down Condition:

Every person who suffers can have a liberal introductory bottle of the World's Newest Medicine to try for 25 CENTS. Simply read the offer below. Do this in your own interest.

This new and scientific medicine, known as Indo-Vin, has helped 85 (or 90) per cent of the people who have taken it. Therefore, we offer the first trial bottle at 25 CENTS, because we believe the people who are benefited will keep on using it. The regular full-size price of this medicine is $1.25.

WHAT IT IS!

Indo-Vin is a new, advanced medical compound of 29 of the Finest Medicinal Herbs, and not one a habit-forming drug. It is taken after meals and mixes with the food in one's stomach, thus throwing off the poisons that foster stomach troubles and permitting the kidneys and liver to function properly. It acts within 10 minutes to stop gas and pains, sourness, bloating and belching. It will not gripe or nauseate you like ordinary liver medicines. It will work the bile from the liver as black as ink. At the same time Indo-Vin drives the poisons from the kidneys and relieves backaches, bladder irritation and weakness. Relieves children from bed-wetting in a few days. Strengthens the nerves by natural means.

Now, whether Indo-Vin will help you as it has thousands of others—whether it will end your suffering in a day or a week—remains to be seen. But in light of what it has done for others, it is surely a mistake not to try it for 25 CENTS, only a fraction of its worth. This introductory offer is good Friday and Saturday ONLY, so read the rest of this announcement and act at once. Do this in fairness to yourself and your family.

WHAT IT WILL DO!

Indo-Vin will cleanse your bowels (gradually—not drastic or severe) as they were NEVER CLEANSED BEFORE.

It will bring out awful gases and impurities (frequently from the first dose) which may have been inside of you a long time, causing you many days of misery with headaches, dizzy spells, skin eruptions and lazy, drowsy, tired feeling.

Indo-Vin will relieve acid conditions and make the digestive organs sweet and clean and give complete relief from indigestion, bloating, sour stomach, shortness of breath and dyspepsia.

IT WILL give you the greatest appetite you EVER HAD IN YOUR LIFE.

Indo-Vin will act as a diuretic to sluggish kidneys and flush out quantities of impurity that may have become dammed up inside, causing BACKACHE, SHARP PAINS and RISING AT NIGHT.

It will make your liver more active; will clear away old bile deposits, thus relieving spells of biliousness and sick headache.

Relieves those with rheumatism and neuritis, giving quick relief from pain.

IT WILL clear up the skin eruptions caused by the impurities in the organs, will overcome the sallow, "muddy" complexion that is due to "stagnant" liver and will put the ROSY GLOW OF HEALTH into your cheeks.

Indo-Vin will make your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels more active, build you up in general and make you LOOK, ACT and FEEL like a DIFFERENT MAN or WOMAN, years younger than your real age.

To get your first bottle for 25c (Friday and Saturday ONLY) bring coupon to any Jacobs' drug store, or send with 25c (stamps or coin) to Indo-Vin, Inc., Cincinnati, Ohio and medicine will be shipped postpaid.

Georgia Bar To Meet At Sea Island in May

ROME, Ga., March 27.—(AP)—Graham Wright, president of the Georgia Bar Association, announced today that the annual meeting of the association would be held at Sea Island, Ga., May 30, 31 and June 1.

Details of the program have not been arranged.

70 MAGNOLIAS PLANTED AT FORSYTH COLLEGE

FORSYTH, Ga., March 27.—(AP)—Spring magnolia planting in the Bessie Tift College beautification program is now complete and the shrubs are being given for the fall planting.

Eight states and seven foreign countries have already participated in the project, which is sponsored by the Forsyth chapter of the Bessie Tift Alumnae Association.

Besides Georgia, there are trees from Florida, Texas, South Carolina, Maryland, Colorado, Montana and Pennsylvania, with China, Japan, Cuba, Korea, Brazil, Argentina and Africa also represented.

About 70 magnolia trees have already been planted and a large number of contributions have been received to purchase boxwoods and other shrubbery for planting this fall.

There is to be a memorial walk of boxwoods, each planting to be in memory of someone closely connected with the early history of the college. A landscape artist is in charge of the work.

Portugal School Days Revealed In Letter From Mary Ellen Orme

By Sally Forth.

BY WAY of the high seas comes a letter from Mary Ellen Orme, in far-off Lisbon in Portugal. Mary Ellen, you know, is living in continental Europe with her mother, Madame Jean Bienvenu, who was our own Mary Cohen, daughter of Major and Mrs. John S. Cohen. Mary Ellen's letter, written to her classmates at the Lovett school, where she was a popular student prior to her present residence in Portugal, tells her former classmates interesting highlights of school life there.

The letter is published today simultaneously with the appearance of School Days, the monthly paper of the Lovett school, which also carries the news to her classmates. Written from Lisbon, it is as follows:

"Dear Lovett School Friends: I am sorry I have not answered your letter sooner, but I have not had much time. The school I go to lasts from 9:30 until 5 o'clock. We eat lunch there and when I come home I have to do my homework. My only time to write letters is on Thursday and Sunday. We have Thursday for a holiday over here instead of Saturday."

"You can't imagine how very much the school I go to here differs from yours. You will think it very old-fashioned when I tell you about it. To begin with, every child, even the ones in the first grade, is taught to write with ink. All of us, even the largest, are requested to wear black smocks over our clothes so as not to get them dirty. Everything is in French and at first I didn't understand any of it, but by now I can speak a little. Every day we have to learn a poem. Here is the first verse to a cute one that I am learning now: 'Madame La Lune est tres curieuse, Montrant son nez blanc que vient le soleil. Et reste la haut bien silencieuse. Ecavilliant l'oeil, afin de tout voir.' Do you understand it?"

Furthermore, we have to sit in double desks as your mothers did when they were little. How do you think you would like it? It seemed very queer to me at first, but I am used to it now, though I will always like the Lovett school much better. Your friend, Mary Ellen Orme."

LAURA MADDOX returns today from Palm Beach. You will recall that she spent the spring vacation at the queen of Florida winter resorts with Ritchie Farrell, her roommate at the Finch school. Ritchie is the daughter of the Herbert Farrells, of Nashville, Tenn. She visited Laura here last Christmas. Many of their student friends at Yale University airplane the journey to Palm Beach, and made their visit there all the gayer.

Last Sunday was Laura's eighteenth birthday. She was at Palm Beach when this auspicious date occurred on March 24. Long distance telephone calls, telegrams, birthday greeting cards and flowers galore reached her that day from relatives and admiring friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Maddox, Laura's parents, are firm in their belief that the eighteenth birthday anniversary corresponds with equal importance to a girl as does the twenty-first birthday date to a man. Consequently, they believe the event should be marked by some outstanding gift.

When Laura returns today she will have the very first glimpse of the exquisite diamond bracelet her parents will give her to commemorate her natal day. Being the sensible people that they are, Mr. and Mrs. Maddox did not send the trinket to their daughter at Palm Beach. They did not desire to add that much responsibility to Laura's butterfly life at the Florida resort.

Laura leaves on Sunday to resume her studies at the Finch school in New York city. Her stay in Atlanta will be of all-too-short duration to please her host of friends, for Laura is one of the most popular, attractive, and prettiest sub-debs in the upper circles of Atlanta society.

LIKE most garden-minded people, Mrs. Willis Westmoreland has had the urge to do her garden over, with the coming of spring. One of the outstanding features of the landscape is a huge holly tree, which has grown to luxurious height, but, strange to relate, has never borne any berries.

Mrs. Westmoreland decided to consult a florist or landscaper about the tree. The florist, who was called, said that the tree was full of berries and worth $24.

When she consulted Dr. Westmoreland about the matter, he thought perhaps the sight of the berry-laden tree justified the price, but what he couldn't understand, despite his store of medical knowledge, was why one lone holly tree demanded a harem.

Prom Party. Miss Anna Lee Thompson entertained at a prom party at her home on Confederate avenue, recently. Games were enjoyed after a series of proms. Those present were: Misses Martha Jackson, Lucille Tice, Atha Threante, Anna Lee Thompson and Claud Hill. Jimmie Vickery, Ralph Barton, Bill Miller, Perry Jackson and Richard Neill.

When Change of Life Comes "I have used Cardui during the change of life and found it just right in my case," writes Mrs. Debie Epperson, of Flat Lick, Ky. "I was very nervous. I could not rest at night. My friends recommended Cardui, and I started taking it. I obtained splendid results. Kept taking Cardui and am in good health."

To improve nourishment, thereby helping to overcome nervousness and painful symptoms during change of life, try Cardui. Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.—(adv.)

C., student reporter, and Miss Mildred Frances Ripple, freshman, Welcome, N. C., proof-reader.

For Mr. Mrs. McKee.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McKee, of Bristol, R. L., are at the Billmore, Tuesday they visited Martha Berry school at Rome, of which Mr. McKee has been a trustee for 20 years. He was engaged in business in Rome a quarter of a century ago and, at that time, enjoyed the acquaintance of many Atlantans. Mr. and Mrs. McKee were dinner guests on Monday evening of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Emmert, at their West Paces Ferry road residence, and will remain in Atlanta for several days.

Misses Woolford Are Feted Visitors.

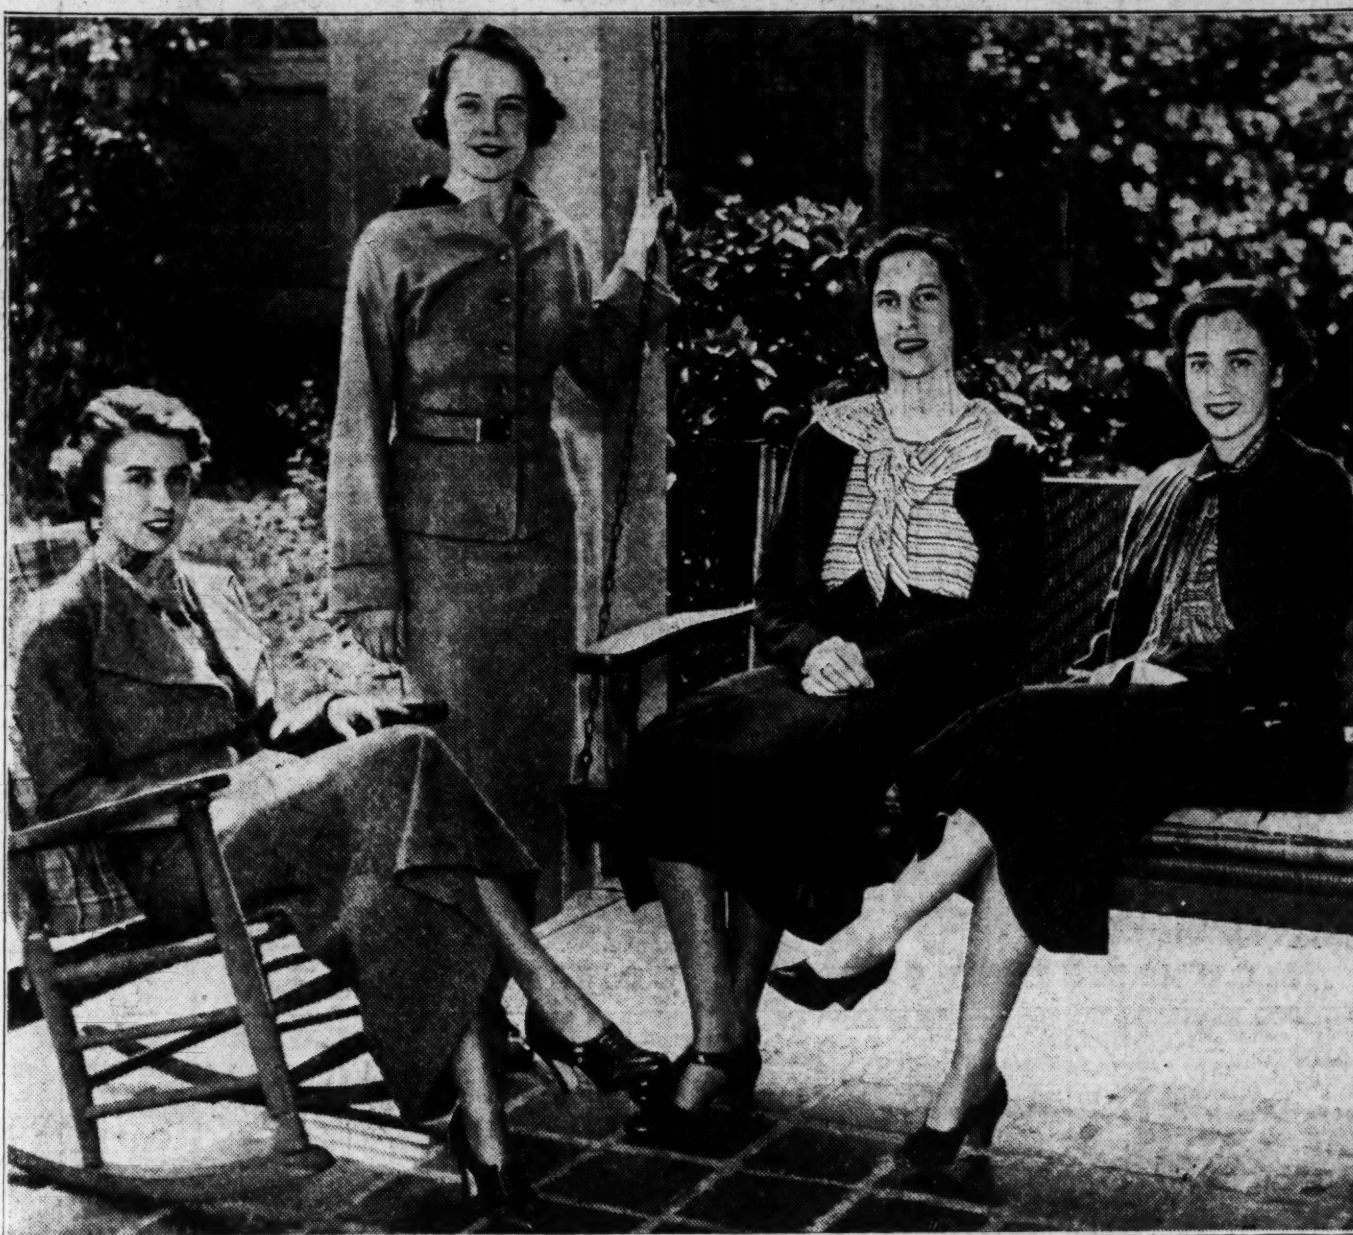

A trio of the most attractive young visitors in the city are Misses Elissa and Helen Woolford, of Roswell, New Mexico, and Miss Mary Woolford, of Chattanooga, Tenn. They are the feted guests of their uncle, Cator Woolford, at his DuPont Hills home, Jacqueland, for the spring holidays.

Mr. Woolford will be host at a tea-dance this afternoon at Jacqueland, inviting a throng of members of the college set of society to meet his lovely young nieces. The hours are from 6 to 8 o'clock. Misses Frances Woolford, another niece of the host and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Woolford, will assist in entertaining the guests.

Miss Bright Bickertstaff was hostess at tea Wednesday at her home on Leffwater road in compliment to these visitors. After tea, Mrs. Charles Bickertstaff, assisted in receiving.

Miss Elissa Woolford is a student at Vassar College, while Miss Helen Woolford attended school at Western. Miss Mary Woolford is enrolled at the University of Georgia at Athens.

Vassar College Seniors Spend Spring Holidays in Atlanta

The attractive photograph presents Miss Lucy Yundt and a trio of Vassar College classmates who are spending the spring holidays with Miss Yundt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Yundt, at their home on Seventeenth street. Following their graduation at Vassar in June this group of college friends will sail for Europe, where they will spend two months traveling on the continent. They plan to travel by bicycle through the rural sections of Holland, Italy, France and Germany. They will also visit England before returning to the states in August. During their visit here this group of college belles are being honored at a series of informal social gayeties, including a buffet supper at which Miss Yundt's twin sister, Miss Marion Yundt, was hostess. They plan to return to Poughkeepsie on Sunday by motor. Tri Delta Sorority To Observe State's Day on April 6

The Atlanta Alliance of Tri Delta sorority, one of the six charter members of National Pan-Hellenic Council organized in 1931, will sponsor the annual Georgia State's Day celebration on Saturday, April 6, when prominent women from all sections of the state will gather together for this delightful occasion.

Tri Delta was founded on Thanksgiving Eve in 1888 at Boston University. It now has 87 active chapters and 136 alumnae groups.

The purpose of this state's day meeting is to give to members of the sorority, both active and inactive, an opportunity once each year through personal contact to renew old ties and to discuss matters of mutual interest. This custom has been observed most satisfactorily for many years in a number of states, but it was inaugurated in Georgia only one year ago at the time of the installation of Alpha Rho chapter at Georgia University in Athens.

Mrs. W. T. Dent, president of the Atlanta Alliance, is arranging an attractive program, which will be presented during a luncheon to be held at the Atlanta Athletic Club. At the conclusion of the program, a model in the form of a gown will be presented to the town guests will have the opportunity of viewing Atlanta's famous dogwood and other sights of interest on a tour conducted by local members.

Seminary Alumnae Elects Officers

Miss Fort Scott Meador was elected president of the Washington Seminary Alumnae Association at the meeting held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Meador on Peachtree road. Elected to serve with her were Misses Lundy Sharpe, vice president; Mrs. Frank Davis, secretary; Miss Josephine Scott, treasurer, and Miss Emily Matthews, publicity chairman, and Misses Susan Baker Jones and Yolande Gwin, entertainment committee.

The next meeting of the association will be held Tuesday, April 23, at the parlors at Washington Seminary when plans will be formulated for the annual party at which members of the association give complimentary members of the senior class.

Activities of the alumnae with the new officers will begin with a program of work next fall, the officers having been elected for the year 1935-1936. Miss Emma Scott and Miss Nora Belle Stark, of the seminary, were present at the meeting Tuesday and gave an interesting account of the school activities as did Miss Yolande Gwin, a former president of the association.

Atlanta, a service which began before Mrs. Peterson became a member of the board of education.

The guests included Mrs. Peterson, Miss Ada Barker, Mrs. W. C. Arnold, Miss Charlotte Donnell, Mrs. R. D. Longino, Mrs. Charles D. Center, Mrs. J. M. Claxton, Dr. Willis A. Sutton, J. W. Cliff, Ernest J. Brewer, M. E. Coleman, H. O. Burgess, George Lyle, J. C. Murphy, W. R. Johnson. Others seated at the table were representatives of the faculty and members of the executive board of John B. Gordon P. T. A.

West End Woman's Club Elects Mrs. J. W. Simmons President

Mrs. J. W. Simmons was elected president of the West End Woman's Club at the meeting of the club on Wednesday. Other officers elected to serve with Mrs. Simmons are: First vice president, Mrs. E. L. McCrorey; second vice president, Mrs. R. L. Grant Sr.; recording secretary, Mrs. W. C. Messer; assistant recording secretary, Mrs. A. B. Thompson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. C. Cowden; treasurer, Mrs. Burton Bankston; assistant treasurer, Mrs. A. O'Neal; auditor, Mrs. W. Williams; press representative, Mrs. Charles B. Fife; parliamentarian, Mrs. J. H. Logan.

The new president is well qualified to head the club for the ensuing year, having served most efficiently as second vice president and first vice president, and in addition to those offices, has served as chairman of many important committees. She has been a resident of West End for a number of years, and has been actively engaged in club, parent-teacher and church work. She is an active member of the West End Christian church. Mrs. Simmons succeeds Mrs. Charles B. Fife, who has successfully headed the organization for the past year.

Mrs. Fife's regime has been marked by interesting developments and achievements. Under her leadership the subcommittee was organized with Mrs. A. B. Thompson as chairman, and Mrs. Fred Allman as co-chairman. This department has rapidly grown in number and the outstanding work of the members has made it one of the best organized and active junior clubs of the state. During the past year the club had all necessary repair work taken care of and the club put in splendid condition. A cooling system was installed to add to the comfort of the members and guests attending parties and dances sponsored by the club. Fifteen new members have been added to the roster of the club.

Retiring officers are Mesdames J. W. Simmons, first vice president; J. P. Starr, second vice president; Burton Bankston, recording secretary; R. L. Grant Jr., assistant recording secretary; E. V. Clarke, corresponding secretary; E. L. McCrorey, treasurer; J. H. Phagan, press chairman; Charles B. Fife, auditor; and the installation of the new officers will be held April 10.

Crackers Meet Millers Today: Open at Home on Saturday

RUNYAN BAGS 65, TAKES LEAD IN NORTH-SOUTH

Two Score 68's on First Round at Pinehurst. Picard Falter.

By W. T. Peacock.

PINEHURST, N. C., March 27.—(AP)—Paul Runyan went rolling around the Pinehurst No. 2 course in the rain today for a 65, and spread-eagled the field for the first round of the north and south open tournaments.

Only two others among the 100 entries, Felix Serrano, Scranton, Pa., and Ray Mangrum, Los Angeles, who scored 68's, could break 70. Byron Nelson, Texarkana, Texas; Willie MacFarlane, Tuckahoe, N. Y.; and Craig Wood, Deal, N. J.; Harry Cooper, Chicago; Joe Ezzar, Waco, Texas; and Clarence Clark, Bloomfield, N. J.

Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., winner last year, and the leading money winner of the winter tournaments, was well back with 73 for the first round of his title defense.

For the bantam weight Runyan, it was an amazing performance over the 6,533-yard course.

He was forced to use a wood for his second shot on many of the longer par fours, but he banged them up to the hole, and canned putts with unerring accuracy to string six birdies on his card, never going over par.

"It was the best single round of my life, under the conditions," he said.

The little P. G. A. champion who was celebrating the fifth anniversary of his first victory in this tournament, in 1930, when he was fresh from an Arkansas farm and headed for his first job in the east, did not have a five on his card. It listed seven 3's and eleven 4's.

His round was a stroke above the course record of 64 scored by Joe Turnesa in 1927, but since then the course has been lengthened and is considered more difficult.

Sunday Games Given Okay

By Key

Complimenting Atlanta's aid to charity last year when Sunday baseball was inaugurated by the Atlanta Crackers, Mayor James L. Key Wednesday sanctioned the same plan for 1935.

A conference between members of the Junior Chamber and Mayor Key was held Wednesday and the permit was immediately issued to Everett G. Jackson, president, and George Yancy, secretary of the Junior Chamber.

Charities benefiting from the baseball game include: Red Cross, D. A. V., Jewish Orphanage, A. G. Rhodes Home for Incubables, the children's ward at Grady hospital, Home for Old Women, Battle Hill sanitarium, Henrietta Eggleston Memorial hospital and the Shiloh nursing home.

The mayor's letter follows:

"To the Atlanta Baseball Corporation, Atlanta, Georgia.

"Pursuing the same plan which we adopted last year, I hereby re-appoint the Junior Chamber of Commerce, acting through its own chosen committee, to carry out the plan of a division of receipts from Sunday baseball, which shall be devoted to certain well-established charities of the city, the names of which will be indicated to you—and the committee will agree with you on a division of the receipts and will co-operate with you in seeing that the funds go into the proper hands."

"The Sunday baseball which you gave us last year met with the general and generous approval of the citizens of this city, not only to the extent of the benefit which the charities received, but also on account of the pleasure and social benefit which Sunday baseball gave to our people."

"Sincerely,

"JAMES L. KEY, Mayor."

Campbell Given Plaque by Garner

WASHINGTON, March 27.—(AP)—Sir Malcolm Campbell, British pioneer of speed, today received from Vice President Garner a silver plaque commemorating his five championship automobile speed races on the sands of Daytona Beach, Fla.

While a crowd looked on and applauded from the senate steps of the capitol, the vice president smilingly presented the token to the British racer on behalf of the citizens of Daytona Beach, where on March 7 Campbell whizzed his "Bluebird" to a 276.8 miles per hour record.

Calling the Briton a sportsman and an ambassador of good will between the United States and Great Britain, Garner said he had "demonstrated a skill and heroism which will all honor."

Campbell, his bluish-gray eyes sparkling under a deep tan from Florida's sun, said he would carry back to England happy memories of Daytona Beach and America.

Schmeling Unaware Of Board's Action

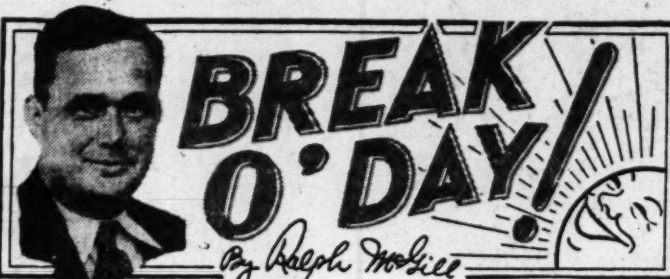

BERLIN, March 27.—(AP)—Max Schmeling, former world's heavyweight boxing champion, went hunting today and was not apprised of the New York State boxing commission's edict that he must fight James J. Braddock before he will be permitted to meet Champion Max Baer in a title bout in New York.

Schmeling's whereabouts were not known by his household. He is expected to return tomorrow.

Harris, Kelley Headed Home

DAYTONA BEACH, March 27.—(AP)—Dave Harris and Harry Kelley, first of the Crackers to break camp, left today for Atlanta. Kelley will pitch Sunday's game against the Athletics.

Harris will play in the outfield and will be in there swinging to show Atlanta fans why he has been called by Manager Eddie Moore the "most dependable hitter in the outfield."

Willie Green was at the door. "Mistah McGill," he said, "I wishes you to see Mr. Earl Mann, of de Crackers. Indeed I does. I has got my choir all ready."

"A choir all ready?"

"Yes, suh, you see, last yeah my choir kind of died out on me. De Crackers was so bad and dis heah choir got sort of discouraged. And den I wasn't well. When de team loses several games it is very ha'rd to sing."

"But what has a choir got to do with baseball and with Mr. Earl Mann, the secretary and vice president of the Crackers?"

"Well, suh, you see, it is like dis. We has a choir. We got 12 now. Twelve good boys. And we gonna go to de games and sit together. We been practicing on de songs. And we gonna give dese heah visiting clubs a fit. I do hopes de club wins because it's most discouraging to sing for a loser."

"Last yeah I sing my fool self to death and I yells myself near to death. The veins stand out on my head so much one day Dr. —, who knows me, he say, 'Willie Green from New Orleans, you is gonna die if you don't do somethin'.' So I went to his office and he said my blood pressure is way up. But I am better. And I am anxious about seein' them Crackers come home and that's why I wants you to see Mr. Mann. Tell him Willie Green has his choir all ready."

Willie Green is the finest Cracker fan in Atlanta, barring none. The Capitol theater page has watched ball games for years and years. He never misses a ball game. He is rooting as hard when September comes as in April when the start is made.

I shall put an attentive ear this year for Willie Green and his choir. Come to think of it, why not a loud speaker down at the plate on opening day for Willie Green and his choir to sing just one number before the game begins?

THEY ARRIVE FRIDAY.

Those Crackers will arrive in our town on Friday and prepare for the meeting with Connie Mack's Athletics on Saturday and Sunday, the first exhibition games of the local season.

The Crackers will arrive as the league favorites, a most disquieting condition. Various clubs and managers about the league have voted the Crackers as the probable pennant winners.

The club will find the city enthusiastic but with its fingers crossed. In other words, they have not forgot the past seasons. They will be on hand for the games and they will give to Eddie Moore and the management the winning crowd on opening day. But they are a bit suspicious of all the publicity which sounds just like that of past seasons.

It appears, however, that the Crackers have this year something they have not had since 1925, baseball knowledge plus the foundation put down in the 1934 season.

The 1934 Cracker club might have gone places. In May it was probably the second-best club in the league. But the manager blew up, failing entirely to grasp the situation and to realize the human equation in his job. The result was his players, while they did not quit, nevertheless could not give to him enthusiasm, and that final effort which makes the difference between victory and defeat.

He left, however, some good players. Eddie Moore and Earl Mann have gone about their job with a great deal of skill. We will have a good ball club. The matter of the pennant can wait.

I rather expect Atlanta to get off to a fast start, the other clubs not yet being set. And a fast start helps. Victories in April count just as much as those in September.

178 GOLFERS ENTER.

One hundred and seventy-eight golfers have entered the Atlanta Metropolitan golf tournament, which begins at the Capital City Club on Saturday, when the field will play 18 holes each.

Sixty pros and 20 amateurs will qualify for the final 36 holes to be played on Sunday. The field includes Walter Hagen, Whiffy Cox, Paul Runyan, Ky Laffoon, Horton Smith, Denny Shute, Henry Picard, and dozens of other well-knowns. Runyan is P. G. A. champion.

With warm weather assured, all the tournament needs is clear skies to make it a really tremendously successful feature. Golf, from all indications, is in for its greatest season.

WHAT? NOT TRIPLETS!

He owns a very fine dachshund—and pups were on the way. He had sold an anticipated four of them for $75 each.

He arrived home one afternoon this week to find the mother dachshund at the door. She bounded back to her box and proudly produced the litter—one beautiful pup.

This explains why Mr. Paul Jones, one of our town's department store executives, feels just as badly as if he had invested $225 in that bond and share business. Dachshund preferred is below par.

TILDEN LECTURES.

Bill Tilden has agreed to give a lecture on tennis to the young players of Atlanta. He will appear for the lecture at Spalding's on Saturday afternoon. I can think of no player more qualified to lecture than William Tatum Tilden III. Only Tilden and Ruth, of the super-competitors produced in the "golden era of sport," are left in their respective fields.

THIS AND THAT.

Joe (Yussel) Jacobs, manager of Max Schmeling, is in trouble in New York. It seems he gave the Nazi salute while in Germany with Schmeling for the Hamas fight. It is proper to salute the national anthem of all nations but the Nazi emblem, very deservedly so, isn't popular. They are threatening to boycott Yussel and his boy Maxie, for the proposed Baer fight in June. . . . Babe Didrikson, the girl who became the best-known girl athlete in the world, is tired of the pro game and is considering marriage as a career. . . . Ivy Griffin, who played with the Crackers' 1919 championship club, will pilot the Jeannerette (La.) baseball team this summer. . . . Walter French, who is reported to have asked for his retirement from the Knoxville club, once played football against Harry Mehre, Georgia coach, when Mehre was at Notre Dame and French at West Point. . . . Max Baer's fan mail averages 300 letters per day. . . . Most of it from girls. . . . Chief Little Wolf and Danno O'Mahoney, are the two new names in wrestling who look like the next tops. . . . Coach W. A. Alexander keeps denying that report of a society page story in June but he blushes so furiously when he denies that no one will believe him. . . . A grand guy, William Alexander. . . . Anyone who knows him is for him.

GAME AND FISH.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., March 27.—(AP)—A group of Florida sportsmen, meeting with George W. Davis, conservation commissioner, recommended a separate department of game and fish and water conservation for Florida. A special committee was named to draft a general game and fish bill to be presented to the legislature.

NEW CUE RECORD.

NEW YORK, March 27.—(AP)—A new high run record for exhibition play in pocket billiards was established today when the National Billiard Association placed its official stamp upon the high run of 277, made by Edwin Rudolph during an exhibition at Traveler's Rest, S. C., March 2. The new record eclipses by five Ralph Greenleaf's run of 272 established last January.

TOMMY BRIDGES FACES CARDS AND WINS, 13-8

History Repeats as Dean Boys Are Shellacked for 12 Hits.

BRADENTON, Fla., March 27.—History repeated itself today as the Detroit Tigers, behind the pitching of Tommy Bridges, lambasted the Dean family for 12 hits and beat the St. Louis Cardinals 13 to 8.

It was Bridges who pitched Detroit to victory over Dixie in the fifth game of the 1934 World Series. Both the Dean brothers were ineffective today against the team they vanquished last fall. It was the Tiger's second spring training victory over the Cardinals.

GIANTS WIN.

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 27.—(AP)—With Fred Fitzsimmons, Leon Chagnon and Al Smith combining to pitch shutout ball, the New York Giants turned back the Cleveland Indians 2 to 0 today to end a three-game losing streak.

Each team got six hits but the Giants made the most of their blows as Phil Weintraub pounded out two triples and knocked in the second of the New Yorkers' runs in the seventh inning. The other came in the first frame as Hughie Critz's single and a double by Dick Bartell.

Earl Averill was kept out of the Indians' lineup with a charley horse.

PHILS LOSE AGAIN.

ORLANDO, Fla., March 27.—(AP) The Phillies suffered their third straight setback by an International league team today when they bowed to the Montreal Royals, 4 to 3.

Again it was a banner day for Phil's castoffs. Harry Smythe started on the mound for the Royals and was given credit for the victory. Fresno Thompson, former Phillies captain, contributed a double in the eighth, when the Royals scored three runs, that helped decide the battle.

The score: Philadelphia 000 000 021—3 10 2 Montreal 000 100 063—7 5

Gumbert, Hansen and Todd, Jonnard; Smythe, Frazier and Stack.

GEHRIG DOUBLES.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 27.—(AP)—After going hitless in four previous games and the first three times at bat today, Lou Gehrig finally came through with a double as the New York Yankees defeated the House of David 6 to 1 in an exhibition game. The double was Larrapin's third safe blow in 37 trips to the plate this spring.

The Yankees merely breezed to victory with Howard (Red) LaFlamme and Clifford Melton, a pair of rookie hurlers, holding the bewhiskered team to a 1-0 record. The Yankees connected with 11 off Moose Swann, a southpaw who pitched for Newark away back in 1922.

SENATORS GET EVEN.

BILOXI, Miss., March 27.—(AP)—Washington evaded its count with the Kansas City Blues, 3 to 2, today, but the afternoon brought the bad news that Irving Hadley, right-handed pitcher, had developed an arm ailment that may keep him out part of the season.

So serious does Trainer Mike Martin consider the ailment that Hadley, who was purchased from the St. Louis Browns in a winter deal, will leave tonight for Chattanooga. There he will be under care of Lee Jensen, trainer of the Lookouts, who specializes in the treatment of sore pitching limbs.

Owner Clark Griffith gloomily expressed the fear that "Hadley may be of no use at all to the club this year."

REDS BEAT HANDS.

TAMPA, Fla., March 27.—(AP)—Cincinnati's Reds and their International league Farm-Hands from Toronto matched home runs today, the Reds winning 4 to 2.

Handley chalked up a four-bagger for Toronto, but Riggs hit a homer and a triple, and Mize another four-bagger for the Reds to win back four runs which Hollingsworth yielded on three passes and three singles in the first.

Bennie Frey signed today, completing the Red pitching staff.

Mrs. McClain Wins Skeet Shoot

Mrs. Donald McClain, one of the finest women trapshooters in the business, yesterday accomplished her first victory at the skeet trials.

Breaking the targets with considerable skill, Mrs. McClain posted a score of 53-50, including handicap, and won the regular Wednesday silver sherbet prize.

It was very evident that with a little practice Mrs. McClain would prove a decided threat to the men shooters of Atlanta.

In the runner-up position was Jack Troy, who had a score of 51-50. Other leading scores included Bill Healey, 50; Jake Orr, 50; Larry Grant, 49; Jack Gray, 48; H. L. White, 47; A. J. Orme, 47.

Orr, who has been away from the shoots on account of illness for some time, returned yesterday and broke a snappy 23-25 in his first round. Jake working whether or not he could walk around the traps, actually flew.

Jack Tway, Capitol secretary, was in charge of the program and led a special 16-yard handicap square, a snappy 23-25 in his first round. Jake working whether or not he could walk around the traps, actually flew.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald McClain, Larry Grant, Bill Healey and A. J. Orme.

Chambers Named Trainer at L. S. U.

BATON ROUGE, La., March 27.—(AP)—Announcement was made today of the appointment of Michael C. (Mike) Chambers, conditioner of 1928 United States Olympic athletes, as trainer at Louisiana State University.

T. P. Heard, athletic director, said that Chambers, who replaces Paul C. Marx, would assume charge immediately. Heard said Marx's work has been satisfactory and that he would be retained as an assistant trainer.

The new Louisiana State trainer comes directly from Georgia Tech where he has served on the athletic staff for the past six years.

A native of New Orleans, Chambers served in the navy during the World War, and later attended the University of Illinois and played football.

AUBURN BEATS TROY TEACHERS

AUBURN, Ala., March 27.—Backing their two hurlers, sophomore Joel Eaves and Senior Lefty Wilcoxson with perfect and at times sensational fielding and securing six of their nine hits at opportune times, the Alabama Polytechnic Institute Tigers opened their current baseball season here on Drake field by trimming the Troy Teachers, 4-1.

The game was the feature attraction on an unusually colorful and interesting "A" day program at Auburn.

The Trojans solved Eaves and Wilcoxson for only three scattered singles and committed five bobbles, four of which figured in Auburn's scoring. Cliff Meredith and Curtis Carter were the only teachers to connect safely at the plate for the teachers, the former getting one each off the duo of Tigers' pitchers.

Tom Drake hurled a fine game for the losers, striking out nine Plainesmen and the score of the game would have been even closer if his mates had given him better support. Drake's offerings were nipped for nine hits, but none were of the extra-base variety and he had considerable stuff on the ball for an early-season game.

Although the Plainesmen hit safely nine times, they failed to show much of a punch at the plate. Sidney Seabrough and Gilbert McMillan led the Auburn hitting brigade with two biggies apiece. Only 17 batters faced the brilliant Eaves the five innings the Atlanta sophomore toiled on the mound. He has not attained his maximum form but his first performance of the season was highly satisfactory. Wilcoxson's feat also was a meritorious one.

The score: Auburn 000 001 000—1 9 5 Troy 000 020 011 002—4 9 5 Drake and Elmore; Eaves, Wilcoxson and Turner.

Smithies, Purples In Return Match

Boys' High's undefeated boxing team will meet Tech High at 8 o'clock tonight at the city auditorium. It will be the second meeting between the two, Boys' High having won the first, 5 to 4, in the Henry Grady gymnasium.

The match was scheduled for the city auditorium to take care of an overflow crowd, which jammed every inch of space in the Grady gymnasium when the first match was held.

Boys' High's team will be considerably strengthened with the return of J. Bond, a heavyweight. Bond was on duty with the national guard when the first match with Tech High was held.

An outstanding match on the program will be between Tommy Phillips and Jack Leathers, Boys' High. They weigh 135 pounds each and are plenty fast. That one bout alone should be well worth the price of admission.

The card: Weight. TECH H. M. Nix . . . 105. . . . A. Fabian . . . 105. . . . J. Williams . . . 112. . . . W. Webb . . . 112. . . . J. Billings . . . 112. . . . B. Po. Byers . . . 128. . . . J. REORGANIZATION.

Baseball teams from towns along the Dixie highway will have an opportunity to get into a league this year when an attempt will be made Friday night to reorganize the old Kenesaw Mountain League. The meeting will be held at the arena in Marietta. Four teams have already expressed their willingness to organize the league, and if two more can be found it is a sure thing.

POWER TO LEAGUE.

Pennock thinks that the Red Sox, the team by whom he is now employed, will be a power to the American league this year if Lefty Grove's slipper comes around and young Dahlgren comes through at first.

He thinks Joe Cronin's shortstop-ping and managing will be the biggest improvement on the team.

The Crackers marked time today with a light workout. They close out the Florida campaign in a final game with Minneapolis at Deland tomorrow. Jim Lindsey and Bob Durham will pitch with young McCaskill catching.

Moore wants to have another look at McCaskill, whose hitting and speed may land him on the squad even if he does belong to the Yankees. Moore is favoring young Nix, the Crackers' own property, but McCaskill is showing him a lot recently.

ATLANTA PLAYS MACKMEN TWICE IN FIRST SERIES

Harry Kelly To Pitch Sunday; Club Packs Plenty of Power.

By Jimmy Jones.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 27.—Opinions and the like being more or less ephemeral anyway and soon forgotten in the march of actual events, one more roundup of the Atlanta baseball club prior to its first appearance before the home fans Saturday by way of opening a 14-game exhibition schedule at home probably won't hurt.

The club says its farewell to palms tomorrow with a game at Deland against the Minneapolis Millers and will reach Atlanta Friday for a bit of rest before opening a two-game series with Mr. Mack's Athletics at Ponce de Leon park Saturday at 3 p. m.

The team will play again on Sunday and anticipate big crowds for both contests. Eddie Moore has decided to save Harry Kelley, his ace, to face the A's in the Sabbath game.

HOW THINGS LOOK.

But back to a few opinions about the club before it pulls out to stakes here. The Atlanta baseball commentators, who have had to leap from more limbs than Tarzan of the Apes in the last few years, when opinions went awry, have not overestimated this ball club. In fact, they have done little more than give it justice.

Last year's ball club likewise was not over-written by the writers. It was over-managed.

The 1934 outfit was perhaps the best ball club in the league when it started out, and every change that was made in its personnel, starting with the release of Second-String Catcher Freddie Neider and finally the firing of Ernie James was for the worse.

The Crackers didn't have an infield after James was shipped, and many was the ball game when Joe Palm was hurt that the peppery and experienced Neider could have been used behind the plate.

ONE MISTAKE.

There are those on the Cracker club now who insist that letting Moose Chalk, a potent hitter if inept fielder, who was hitting .349 did the club no good.

"If we had just kept the club we started with, we wouldn't have finished any worse than second," one of the players stated.

If you want to go back further than that, the 1933 Cracker ball club was a good team and should have finished three to four notches higher. No less a person than Harry Kelley shares this belief. Kelley thought the '33 Crackers, who mopped up with all opposition in the exhibition, were a better ball club potentially than even the '34 team. But discussion wrecked that fact.

"In fact," said Harry Kelley, "Atlanta has had a better ball club for the last three years than either Memphis or New Orleans. It was the edge in the lineup and judgment that Prothro and Larry Gilbert gave those two teams that made the difference."

NOT MANAGERS.

The baseball writers, even if one of their criticisms is correct, cannot be blamed for the management of the team. They are not supposed to manage the club, although some of them have been accused of trying it.

The fact remains, however, that they are in much the same position of some of the officers of the ill-fated Ward team. They tell that anything they say will be held against them and that they are going to be second-guessed all around at the slightest suggestion.

Granted, that the writers will have three strikes on them to begin with this ball club of 1935 certainly hasn't. It will be one of few weaknesses.

But about as much as to color the pattern from any angle, or the other, here is what the writer considers a fair, lucid estimate of the club as it stands today.

MORE POWER.

1. It has more hitting power—especially the long range—and more pitching of any Atlanta ball club he has seen in years.

UNIQUE RESTAURANT
PLANS GALA OPENING

"The Haig" Will Open Tonight in Palmer Building.

Atlanta's demand for a gay dining place, replete with dancing girls, good music, a dancing floor and excellent food prepared by a French chef, will be realized tonight at the gala opening of The Haig, unique dinner-dance restaurant in the Palmer building corner of Marietta and Forsyth streets.

The Haig, in the completely remodelled restaurant in the basement of the building, can be reached through two entrances, one from the street, 100 on Forsyth street, or through the lobby of the Palmer building. Not only has the restaurant been remodelled, but the menu has been changed, which will be in charge of Rudolph Landre, widely known French chef. The restaurant is completely equipped with the latest and finest cooking equipment.

A feature which will add much to the atmosphere of the new restaurant is the oyster beverage bar which has been installed between the kitchen and the dining room. The opening will be observed from 6 to 6:30 p.m. and 10:30 to 11:30 p.m. daily morning. Floor shows are scheduled for 7:30, 9:30 and 11:30 o'clock while the Haig orchestra will play during the intervals from 6 o'clock until the closing.

The restaurant will not only cater to the dinner crowd, but will specialise in luncheon for the hotel and business people. The gay atmosphere of the restaurant, it was said, will be provide haven for the businessmen who are being harassed by the military. The military has also been worried of their offices during the brief nighttime respite.

There will be no cover charge at The Haig, despite the orchestrated dancing, food and drink and the amount of entertainment, it was announced.

SLIGHT DROP SHOWN IN ELECTRIC OUTPUT

NEW YORK, March 27.—(P)—The Edison Electric Institute reported today the production of electric power for the week ended March 23 was 1,724,763,000 kilowatt hours compared with an output in the previous week of 1,735,327,000 kilowatt hours.

First quarter loss in recent weeks from the previous year was shown in the Pacific coast states where production was 22.2 per cent under in 1934. A gain of 22.2 per cent again led by a rock of 11.7 per cent.

"What on earth are you doing with that old towel?" "For Pete's sake, that's what I am doing. Your razor blades have cut too many of my good towels to ribbons. Oh, I know you think you are careful, but that sharp blade cuts a little slit here and a little slit there and first thing you know the towel is slashed to ribbons."

"I decided to take some of my old towels and cut them into a convenient size. Then I intend to fringe them and embroider the words 'razor towel' in embroidery thread of a desired color. The towel will be hung on the rack close to the wash bowl and heaven help you if you use any more good towels to dry your razor blades."

"Sounds like a swell idea. But I bet you are exaggerating. I don't believe I ever spoiled a towel. I've been careful, honest, really I have."

"Careful your eyes! Look at this and this!" Peter looked and was convinced although he was equally sure that he had been careful and had tried to hold the blade so it would not cut the towel.

In making these towels Nancy took old huck and linen towels and cut them to a size similar to that of a finger-tip towel. The direction leaflet gives the proportion. You may procure the direction leaflet by complying with the directions given at the end of this column.

On this sheet are the words "razor towel" in a shape and size just right for embroidery. They are written heavily enough so that it will be an easy matter to trace the letters directly onto the towel. Of course, carbon paper may be used if desired.

In embroidering the words, Nancy suggests red or blue or brilliant green embroidery cotton depending on the color scheme of the bathroom. But in any case the wording should be so conspicuous that there will be no excuse for not finding and using the towel.

If you are afraid the fringing will work up too far in the towel run a line of machine stitching along the edge where you want the fringe to stop.

The direction leaflet for making "Razor Towels" may be obtained by sending 3 cents and a self-addressed stamped envelope to Nancy Page, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga. (Copyright, 1935, by The Constitution.)

NOVEL SHOE DISPLAY
FEATURED AT BYCK'S

Part of a collection of shoes from all foreign countries, presented to Harold G. Keith, president of Walk-Over Shoes, on the company's golden anniversary, is being displayed this week in the window of the local Walk-Over store, at 293 Peachtree street.

In the collection, which has aroused quite a bit of interest, are both men's and women's shoes from Denmark, East Africa, Guatemala, Egypt, India, China, Norway and other countries.

Culbertson on Contract

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

New One Notrump.
The new distributional one-notrump bid—limited to hands of the 4-3-3-3 pattern—has many advantages over the immediate distributional count it gives the responding hand. The precise limitation of minimum and maximum honor strength is a guide to both responses and rebids and makes possible the assigning of specific meaning to certain rebids that have heretofore been extremely vague. One of the chief reasons for the popularity of this method is that it is almost impossible to reach a game contract soundly.

Lillian Mae Patterns

FEMININE, BERTUFFED LOOK
IS DECIDEDLY 1935!

Perhaps the reason girls love ruffles is because men "adore" them. You'll be very definitely "dated" (in more ways than one) when you appear in fashion's newest scoop—double-tiered ruffles—some Sunday afternoon! Made up in soft powder blue printed chiffon! That ruffle that starts and ends very conservatively at the waistline, looks its flutty best at the shoulder with the help of the sleeve ruffle! A cool way to eliminate sleeve difficulty. The skirt takes just enough flare to give it graceful movement. Less expensive but just as lovely in organza or sheer print cotton!

Pattern 2220 is available in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40. Size 16 takes 3 1/2 yards 39-inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send 15 cents for this Lillian Mae pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. Be sure to state size.

Get the Lillian Mae apron pattern! Make for yourself the clothes that are smart, practical and becoming. Choose them from the 40 pages of this beautifully illustrated book which includes also exclusive fashions for tots and children, especially designed dresses for the mature figure, lingerie and hosts of other interesting features. Each garment illustrated is easy to make with a Lillian Mae pattern. Send for your copy today! Price of book 15 cents.
